182nd Annual Convention

BENJAMIN FRANKLIN HOTEL

Ninth and Chestnut Streets

Philadelphia, Pennsylvania

FRIDAY, JANUARY 21, 1966, 4:00 P.M.

The One Hundred Eighty-second Annual Convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the Diocese of Pennsylvania assembled in the Ballroom at the Benjamin Franklin Hotel, Ninth and Chestnut Streets, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania on January 21, 1966, at 4:00 P.M.

The Rt. Rev. Robert L. DeWitt, D.D., Bishop of Pennsylvania, declared the 182nd Convention to be opened.

The Bishop led the Convention in prayer.

A Quorum being present, on nomination of the Rev. Canon Alfred Vail, Alfred W. Putnam, Esq. was elected Secretary, and the Rev. Walter R. Strickland was appointed Assistant Secretary of the Convention, which appointment was confirmed by the Convention.

The Rev. William Roulston McKean, D.D., Chairman, presented the report of the Committee on the Dispatch of Business which on motion was adopted as follows:

> Your Committee presents herewith its suggested program for the dispatch of business during the convention:
> In order to expedite the order of business, your Committee suggests that all reports be made by title where feasible, and as an effort is to be made to transact the work of Convention in one full day, that discussion be curtailed as far as possible.

The Rev. James C. Blackburn presented by title the report of the Committee on Arrangements and invited the attention of the members of the Convention to the exhibits on the Balcony and in the rooms adjacent to the Ballroom.

The Secretary stated that he believed that all business left unfinished at the last Convention had been carried out by his predecessor and all parties concerned had been notified of the business of the Convention.

The Secretary read the Canon of Courtesy as follows:

> Clergymen canonically resident in this Diocese but not entitled to vote in the Convention, Clergymen of other Dioceses of this Church, Candidates for Holy Orders in this Church, Wardens of Missions other than those entitled to send Deputies, and all persons holding any office or trust under the Convention, including the Lay members of the Standing Committee, the officers of the Diocesan Council and the Executive Officer of Episcopal Community Services, though not members, shall be admitted to seats and have a voice in the Convention, but not the right to vote.

The Secretary announced that the voting lists for both Clergy and Lay Deputies had been prepared for this Convention and all required notices had been sent to the Deputies. The official address for all Lay Deputies has been the Parish Church of each Deputy.

The attention of the Deputies was invited to Article IV of the Constitution of the Diocese and to Canon II.

The Secretary noted that it is canonically required that parochial reports be received by February 1, 1966, and moved that this Convention waive the canonical restrictions concerning parochial reports as a requisite for seating at this Convention. The motion was adopted.

Of the parishes, missions and chapels of the Diocese entitled to membership in the Convention the following had not qualified by reason of their failure to complete their 1965 assessments for the Episcopate, Convention and Major Medical Insurance as of the morning of January 21, 1966:

All Saints Mission, Fallsington — St. Luke's, Kensington

Certificates of the Lay Deputies have not been received from:

Christ Church, Franklinville

The Rev. Hadley B. Williams presented a resolution on guest communions which was adopted as follows:

WHEREAS, the House of Bishops adopted the following resolution on Guest Communion at the 61st General Convention:

"Whereas, the House of Bishops believes the time has come when Christian Churches recognize, as a fundamental principle, that all Christians, duly baptized by water in the Name of the Holy Trinity and qualified to receive the Holy Communion in their own Churches, should be welcomed as guests at the Lord's Table in all Christian Churches; therefore, be it

"Resolved, that the General Convention

1. Accept this principle, affirming the right of Bishops to apply it in their own jurisdiction;
2. Direct the Standing Liturgical Commission to present to the 1967 meeting of the General Convention appropriate rubrical and other amendments to the Book of Common Prayer expressive of this principle; and
3. Request the Committees on Constitution and Canons of the House of Bishops to present to the same meeting such constitutional and canonical changes as may be necessary to fully establish this principle in this Church; and be it further

"Resolved, that in so altering our discipline, the General Convention intends

1. To clarify and emphasize this Church's understanding of Confirmation as a response to, and fulfillment of, Holy Baptism, and not a mere prerequisite to the Holy Communion;
2. To reaffirm our wish and prayer that this effectual sign of the gift of the Holy Spirit might be everywhere gladly accepted as a rightful part of the preparation and strengthening of every Christian for ministry; and
3. To state plainly, once again, our solemn intention to press resolutely toward that unity in Christ in which painful separations at the heart of the Church will be impossible." and

WHEREAS, the House of Bishops referred the resolution to the Joint Commission on Ecumenical Relations for consideration during the triennium,

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED, that the 182nd Convention of the Diocese of Pennsylvania request the Committee on Ecumenical Relations to study the House of Bishops' resolution and report its findings and recommendations to the next Diocesan Convention so that the views of the Diocese may be made known to the Joint Commission on Ecumenical Relations before the General Convention in 1967.

The polls were open for the first ballot and remained open until 6:15 P.M. at which time a recess was taken until 8:00 P.M.

At 8:00 P.M., Dr. MacColl opened the evening session with prayer, during which he read the Necrology (Appendix C, page 52).

The Judges of Election reported the results of the first ballot (Appendix A, page 40). The Secretary reported the elections as follows:

STANDING COMMITTEE: The Rev. James R. MacColl, III, D.D. He further reported that there had been no election of a Lay member of the Standing Committee, no election of either Clerical or Lay members to the Diocesan Council and that it appeared evident that the Rev. Paul M. Washington and the Rev. Charles H. Long, Jr. had been elected as Clerical Deputies to the 62nd General Convention and that uncertainty existed in the report with respect to the Lay Deputies elected to that convention thus necessitating further review by the Judges of Election and consultation with the Chancellor.

The Rev. Philemon F. Sturges, D.D. withdrew as a candidate for the position of Clerical Deputy to the General Convention.

The Rev. Canon Vail introduced the Clergy and Staff who have been received or appointed to positions in the Diocese since the 181st Convention.

Official Visitors from Churches in the Ecumenical Community were introduced by the Rev. Charles H. Long, Jr. (Appendix V, page 157).

The Rev. Canon Vail presented the following resolution which was adopted:

WHEREAS, the Diocese of Pennsylvania proudly numbers among its clergy twenty men who have been in Priest's Orders for fifty years or more and

WHEREAS, these men have rendered to this Diocese loyal and distinguished service and

WHEREAS, such service deserves recognition of the highest order:

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED, that this 182nd Convention of the Diocese of Pennsylvania go on record as giving thanks to Almighty God for the ministry and service of the following named men, calling on them to stand and receive a rising vote of thanks.

The Rev. Gibson Bell, D.D.
The Rev. Dallas E. Buzby, Ph.D.
The Rev. Sydney Atmore Caine
The Rev. Frank Damrosch
The Rev. John Lyon Hatfield
The Rev. Waldemar Jansen
The Rev. Charles H. Long, D.D.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that with the permission of the Bishop, the Rev. J. Wesley Twelves, D.D. be asked to lead this Convention in Noonday Prayers on Saturday and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that in subsequent Conventions of this Diocese special recognition be given those members of the Clergy who are celebrating the 50th Anniversary of their Ordination to the Priesthood on or before Convention date.

Dr. Purdie presented the Report of the Diocesan Committee on Organization and Structure. (Appendix G-19, page 93.)

The Bishop presented his Address (Appendix B, page 47), which received a standing ovation.

The Secretary announced a correction reported by the Lay Judges of Election with respect to the vote for two of the candidates for Lay Deputy to the General Convention. He stated that Sydney L. W. Lea, M. Luther Kauffman, M.D. and P. Blair Lee appeared to have been elected as Lay Deputies and that Messrs. Ballam and Kellogg, other candidates for this office, had each apparently received more than one-half of the votes of both the Clerical and Lay orders. The Chancellor and Secretary then explained that Mr. Kellogg had received more votes than Mr. Ballam on the Clerical ballot and Mr. Ballam more votes than Mr. Kellogg on the Lay ballot. The Chancellor stated that neither had been elected and there was therefore one Lay Deputy to the General Convention to be elected on a subsequent ballot. The Chancellor and Secretary recommended that in view of the necessity for correcting the count that the Judges and Tellers review the matter further and report at the morning session. The Chair declared the election to the Standing Committee previously reported and deferred any determination with respect to all elections of Deputies to the General Convention.

The Convention adjourned at 9:45 P.M. to reconvene at 7:30 A.M., Saturday, January 22, 1966.

SECOND DAY

182nd ANNUAL CONVENTION
BENJAMIN FRANKLIN HOTEL
Ninth and Chestnut Streets
Philadelphia, Pennsylvania
Saturday, January 22, 1966, 7:30 A.M.

The Holy Eucharist was celebrated at St. Stephen's Church at 7:30 A.M.; the Bishop was the celebrant.

At 9:00 A.M., the Bishop called the Convention to order and the Judges of Election reported the results of the FIRST BALLOT with respect to Deputies to the 62nd General Convention. The Secretary announced and the Chair declared the election of the Rev. Paul M. Washington and the Rev. Charles H. Long, Jr., as Clerical Deputies.

The Secretary then reported that the report of the Judges indicated that Messrs. Sydney L. W. Lea, M. Luther Kauffman, M.D. and P. Blair Lee had been elected Lay Deputies; that the recount reported the previous day and reviewed and confirmed by the Judges indicated that these three Lay Candidates had each received a clear majority from both Orders; that the Judges' report indicated that three more ballots had been cast than had been authorized, presumably by an erroneous issue of ballots to Lay Deputies having a seat and voice but not a vote; but that the plurality of the presumed elected candidate receiving the least number of votes exceeded the next following candidate by more than three so that the over-issue of lay ballots would not affect the result. The Chair pointed out that despite the irregularity reported it appeared that Messrs. Sydney L. W. Lea, M. Luther Kauffman, M.D. and P. Blair Lee were the choice of the Convention, and he so ruled, stating that the Convention should have an opportunity to vote upon this ruling prior to any declaration of election. The ruling of the Chair was confirmed by a large majority voice vote, whereupon the Chair declared Messrs. Lea, Kauffman and Lee duly elected as Lay Deputies to the 62nd General Convention.

Dr. McKean reported for the Committee on Dispatch of Business that a change had been made in the Agenda whereby the report of the Treasurer and the Department of Finance would next be considered, which change in the order of business was approved.

The Treasurer, Mr. Ritchie, then presented his Report (Appendix E, page 55). Copies of a balance sheet of December 31, 1965, together with a comparison of the Budget with actual income and expenses for the year ended December 31, 1965 had been circulated among the members of the Convention. (Exhibit A, page 56.) Mr. Ritchie commented on the Report and invited attention to the items of both income and expenditure which had exceeded the estimates. Mr. Ritchie also indicated that efforts were being made to make the form of financial statements easier to comprehend.

Mr. Ritchie then introduced J. Peter Stevens, III, Executive Secretary for Financial Resources who distributed a Progress Report of the Diocesan Campaign as of December 1, 1965. Mr. Stevens reported that the amount of pledges and gifts now amounted to approximately $1,435,000; that the goal of $1,500,000 appeared reasonably assured; that some of the expenditures to be met by this sum would be greater than had been originally estimated because of generally rising costs, especially of construction; and that he hoped that the goal would be met in the near future. This report was received with applause. The Bishop expressed the gratitude of the Diocese to the many individuals who had participated in this program.

Dr. Edwards reported the Program and Budget for 1966, copies of which were distributed to the Convention. (Appendix D, page 53.) He noted that this is the first year in which adoption of the Budget is to occur at the start of the year rather than in May. He pointed out that this Program and Budget had been approved at the 1965 Convention and noted the changes approved by the Diocesan Council which were few in number and relatively insignificant. He moved the adoption of the Program and Budget as submitted and suggested that discussion ensue prior to a vote on the motion.

Dr. Edwards then summarized the various items which had been changed and reviewed the discussion and action of the 1965 Convention. The Rev. Mr. Platts inquired concerning the acceptances of parishes in comparison with the prior year. The Treasurer replied that the estimate of income from missionary giving is at present $957,000 after making projections for a number of parishes not yet heard from.

Dr. Edwards pointed out in response to a number of questions that the total amount of expenditure was approximately $1,146,000 and that $479,000 is the approximate indicated figure of responsibility to the Executive Council (PECUSA).

The Rev. William D. Turner inquired concerning an apparent discrepancy between the budget figure relating to the Church of the Advocate and the Annual Report of that Church which had been distributed. Mr. Walter Morris, Accounting Warden of the Church of the Advocate, stated that the figures contained in the Annual Report included gifts and receipts other than those received from the Diocese.

Robert C. Lea, Esq., inquired concerning the amount of the anticipated deficit based on the figures previously reported by Dr. Edwards and Mr. Ritchie. Extended discussion and numerous questions ensued. Mr. Ritchie estimated a possible deficit of approximately $175,000 and pointed out that transfers from the Suspense Fund have been made annually in various amounts; that the Diocese has substantial reserves; that approximately 6% or $40,000 of the proposed expenditures ought to be eliminated by economy measures being instituted by the Diocesan Council and Department of Finance; that the Diocesan Council has eliminated further accruals of 80% of the premium for Major Medical Insurance, which should produce an additional estimated reduction of expenditures of $14,000; and that the projection of receipts from the 123 parishes and missions reported to date at $957,000 is probably conservative. Mr. Ritchie and Dr. Edwards referred to the indications of rising levels of giving and to the success of the Diocesan Campaign and the Charles and Elizabeth Woodward gift, all of which they felt were indicative of generally increasing financial support. Among many comments on this subject it was pointed out that the deficit could be eliminated by an increase of giving of $2.00 per communicant per year and that the average pledge in this Diocese is significantly below the national average.

The Bishop substantiated Mr. Ritchie's estimate of reduction of expenses and indicated that he would delay initiation of new programs until the resources for them became available.

Further questions by the Rev. Edward Platts, Robert C. Lea, Esq. and others led to a discussion of the unallocated missionary expense reserves which were estimated by the Treasurer to be approximately $300,000. Mr. Ritchie pointed out that the Diocese had certain other reserves which are not available and that the $300,000 figure includes cash needed for operations. Mr. Ritchie stated that efforts will be made in future years to present the financial statements in more understandable form. Several persons pointed out that the present statements represent an improvement over prior years.

The Rev. John J. Albert urged the Convention to consider its obligation to the National Church and expressed the hope that the Convention would retain the ideal of accepting the full responsibility of the Diocese. He pointed out that if the Convention should adopt the figures under discussion, the Diocese still would fall approximately $45,000 short of the amount which the National Church has requested. He pointed out that giving has increased by approximately $263,000 or 42% since 1960 and contribution to the National Church has increased only by roughly $55,000 or 11%.

The Rev. Dr. Bruce P. Williamson expressed concern at the Diocesan Survey. The Very Rev. Albert F. Fischer suggested that the Diocese ask the parishes for further contributions, and Dr. Edwards agreed to offer such a resolution at a later point in the proceedings. The Rev. Peter Greenfield urged that an interim report be sent to parishes and missions. Dr. Edwards replied that the Department of Finance does not get the figures from the parishes in sufficient time to make such information available. He pointed out that a number of parishes have not yet submitted their reports. The Rev. Dr. Aulenbach requested further particulars as to accumulation and expenditure of reserves to which Mr. Ritchie replied, outlining briefly recent accumulations which have arisen largely through transfers authorized by the Diocesan Council. He further explained that moneys are expended from the Suspense Fund only after approval by the Council on a recommendation by the Department of Finance.

Mr. Lea recommended that information as to the trend of income and expenditure be reported at an appropriate time.

Upon motion of Dr. Edwards, the Program and Budget was adopted.

Dr. Edwards reported that on January 7 the Diocesan Council had asked that this Convention adopt a resolution to return to the parishes for additional support for the 1966 budget. This recommendation was adopted.

Dr. Edwards suggested that the time had come to re-evaluate the program supported by the Diocese at the Church of the Advocate and stated that this proposal had the approval of the Rev. Paul M. Washington, Rector of that Parish. After discussion it was

RESOLVED, that this Convention request the Diocesan Council to re-evaluate the experimental Diocesan program at the Church of the Advocate and to report back with definite recommendations to the Convention of 1967.

The Chancellor of the Diocese, William White, Jr., Esq., submitted his Report by title (Appendix G-5, page 65).

The Rev. Dr. Stanley R. West submitted the Report of the Commission on Rectors' Salaries and Pensions by title (Appendix G-18, page 92).

Henry T. Dolan, Esq., Chairman, reported for the Committee on Canons. Mr. Dolan stated that a resolution had been referred to the Committee requiring the circulation of proposed canonical changes by mail. Mr. Dolan stated that he and members of the Committee were in sympathy with the objective of the resolution, but that existing Canons require the Committee on Canons to consider any matter submitted to it within 60 days prior to the Convention. Thus, the deliberations of that Committee, which in the past year have included holding a hearing on proposed changes in order to consider the views of interested persons, would not permit the completion of the business of the Committee in sufficient time to permit promulgation of proposed changes in Canons 30 days prior to the Convention.

Mr. Dolan then proposed a resolution that Canon IV, Section V be repealed in its entirety. Mr. Dolan explained that this section establishes the Commission on Rectors' Salaries and Pensions and that the action taken by the 1965 Convention appeared to have completed the greater part of the work of that Commission. A number of individuals expressed the opinion that notwithstanding the achievement of the primary purpose of the Commission, it would still perform some useful functions. A motion to table the proposed Amendment to Canon IV, Section V was carried.

Mr. Dolan thereupon observed that since the Convention had expressed a desire to continue the Commission on Rectors' Salaries and Pensions the Committee would withdraw its proposed Amendment to Canon VII, Section III, paragraph 1; to Canon VII, Section IV, paragraph 1 (subsequently reconsidered in part below); Canon VII, Section V, paragraphs 2, 3, 4, 5, 6 and 7; Canon VII, Section VI, paragraph 2; Canon VII, Section VI, paragraph 6 and Canon VIII, Section V, paragraphs 1 and 14.

The Judges of Election reported the result of the SECOND BALLOT, (Appendix A, page 40), and the Secretary reported the following elections which were confirmed by the Chair:

Lay Deputy to 62nd General Convention: Howard Kellogg, Esq.

Diocesan Council: Mr. Sidney Dexter

The Rev. Drs. Harding and Sparkman withdrew their names as candidates for Clerical Deputy to the 62nd General Convention.

Mr. Spencer D. Wright moved to reconsider the tabling and withdrawal of the various proposed amendments to the Canons previously reported by Mr. Dolan. The Chancellor stated that this motion required the vote of two-thirds of the Deputies present rather than a majority. The Chair declared the motion had failed.

Mr. Dolan offered a resolution amending Canon VII, Section V, paragraph 1, which was adopted as follows:

That Canon VII, Section V, paragraph 1, be amended to read as follows:

1. The Convention shall from time to time, by Standing Resolutions, establish schedules of the minimum salaries and additional material provisions or expense allowances to be received by all clergy engaged in the full-time ministry, in the employ of the Diocese, its parishes, or its missions.

Mr. Dolan offered the following resolutions amending Canon VI, Section I, paragraphs 3, 6 and 7, which were adopted by separate vote with respect to each paragraph:

That Canon VI, Section I, paragraphs 3, 6 and 7, be amended to read as follows:

3. At its last meeting prior to the Annual Convention each of the several Convocations shall elect one Clergyman and one Layman to serve as members of the Council for one year, as defined below. A vacancy caused by the death or resignation of a member so elected may be filled by the proper Convocation at any meeting, and the Executive Committee of the Convocation, in the interval between meetings, may fill the vacancy until the Convocation itself shall elect for the unexpired term.

6. The term for which members of the Council shall be elected or appointed shall begin with the first meeting of the Council called by the Bishop after the annual Convention, and they shall hold office until their successors are elected and appointed. Except in the cases of members ex officio, and of those elected by the Convocations, the Council shall have power to fill vacancies in its membership arising from any cause, including the failure of any Annual Convention to elect its full quota of members.

7. At the first meeting of the Council to be called by the Bishop after the annual Convention the Council shall organize and elect a Vice President and such other officers as it may determine upon, from within or without its own membership. The Council shall have power to make such rules as may be necessary for the conduct of its business, and shall meet at such times as may be determined upon, and whenever called together by the Bishop.

Discussion with respect to paragraph 7 included a question by the Rev. Roland S. Lindsay as to the duration of term of Council members. Mr. Dolan pointed out that both the present Canons and the proposed amendments contemplated that the members of the Diocesan Council shall serve until their respective successors are elected.

Mr. Dolan then offered a resolution amending Canon X, Section II.

The resolution was questioned as to whether reference should not be made to the "Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States of America," which suggestion Mr. Dolan accepted as an Amendment to the resolution. Mr. Dolan further reported that the proposed Amendment had been made by the Committee after a hearing at which a brief and argument had been presented by the Rector, Wardens and Vestry of St. Andrew's-in-the-Field, Somerton. Mr. Dolan also commented on the convenience which the proposed amendment would provide when a parish wished to mortgage its property. The present procedure requires the Church Foundation to convey real estate to a nominee who then creates the mortgage and reconveys the property subject to such mortgage to the Church Foundation. The Resolution, including the Amendment, was adopted as follows:

That Canon X, Section II, be amended by the deletion therefrom of the language " . . . or in the Parish that may be organized out of it . . .", and the substitution therefor of other language, italicized as below, so as to read, as amended as follows:

The title to real estate given to or purchased by or for the Mission for Church purposes shall be vested in The Church Foundation, to be held by it upon such trusts as are declared for the work of the Church in this Diocese, as carried on in said Mission. When a Parish is organized out of a Diocesan Mission, the Diocesan Council may transfer the title to such real estate to the Parish, subject to the acceptance by the Parish, of any mortgage obligations which encumber the title, in trust, nevertheless, for use in accordance with the Constitution, Canons, doctrine, discipline and worship of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States of America in this Diocese as the same may be determined by the Ecclesiastical Authority and Diocesan Council, and to be reconveyed by the parish at such times, for such purposes, and to such persons as the Ecclesiastical Authority and Diocesan Council may require.

Mr. Dolan then offered a resolution amending Canon XVI, Section I, paragraph 1 which he stated was in response to the suggestion of Mr. Charles J. Tisall of Gloria Dei Church, Philadelphia, made at the 1965 Convention. It was adopted as follows:

That Canon XVI, Section I, paragraph 1, be amended to read as follows:

1. Trust and permanent funds and all securities of whatsoever kind shall be placed in the custody of a Federally insured National or State Bank, Banking Institution or Trust Company, or other agency approved in writing by the Department of Finance, under a deed of trust, or under an agency agreement providing for at least two signatures on any order for the withdrawal of such funds or securities; or in trust with The Church Foundation. Where (a) funds have been deposited under a deed of trust containing a power or revocation, or (b) there has been a deposit under an agency agreement of any other funds or securities as to which an intention has been expressed by either the original donor or the depositor that the principal thereof be kept intact, and only the income derived therefrom expended, neither such power of revocation nor the right of withdrawal from such agency shall be exercised unless the same be approved by the Standing Committee of the Diocese. But these requirements shall not apply to securities or funds refused by such depositories as being too small for acceptance. Such securities and small funds shall be under the care of the persons or corporations properly responsible for them.

Mr. Dolan then offered a resolution amending Canon XVII, Section VII. He explained that there is a problem under the existing Canon in filling vacanies in the Cathedral Chapter and that the Committee had considered it advisable to rewrite this Canon. The Rev. Hadley B. Williams questioned the necessity for considering the organization structure of the Cathedral Chapter in view of action taken at prior Conventions. The Bishop stated that the proposed amendment to the Canon should not be considered as an indication of any change but was intended as a clarification of administrative procedures. The Rev. Dr. Pratt expressed the hope that the use of the word "Layman" in the proposed amended Canon would not exclude ladies meeting the other requirements of office. The resolution was adopted as follows:

That Canon XVII, Section VII, be amended to read as follows:

After the adoption by the Diocesan Convention of this Canon, there shall be presented annually to the Convention for its confirmation the nomination by the Bishop, approved by the Standing Committee, or the nomination from the floor of Convention, of two Laymen, citizens of Pennsylvania and Communicant Members of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States of America, and two Clergymen of said Church to serve as Members (now called Canons) of the Board of Directors (now called the Chapter) of said corporation for a term of four years from the first day of the month following election or the expiration of the term of his predecessor, whichever is later. The persons so nominated, if elected by vote of a majority of the Canons in office at the date of the nomination, shall become members of the corporation and Canons for said Term. If any nominee fails of approval or of election, another candidate possessed of like qualifications shall in like manner be nominated, and, in case of another failure to approve or elect, a like proceeding shall take place until an election is secured. Any Canon may on due nomination and approval be re-elected to succeed himself. The method of filling a vacancy occurring during a term and during the interval between Conventions, for the unexpired portion of said term, shall be the procedure set forth above, with the difference only that the powers conferred on Convention shall be exercised by Diocesan Council. The Bishop shall designate not more than four of the Clerical Canons as Canons Residentiary, who shall perform such special duties and shall receive such compensation as may be determined by the Chapter.

Mr. Dolan offered a resolution amending Canon XV, Section I, line 8 to have the "first day" of February read "15th day of January." A number of comments were made with respect to this proposed amendment which would require the filing of Parochial Reports for the year ending December 31 on the following January 15. Dr. McKean questioned the possibility of filing the entire report. The Rev. Frederick A. Breuninger and several others conceded the need for more prompt filing of Reports but seriously questioned the feasibility of the proposed change in time. The Rev. James G. Ludwig, III suggested that the first part of the Parochial Reports could be filed within fifteen days but that the balance of the report could not be prepared in so short a time. Mr. Dolan stated that in view of the numerous comments the Committee withdrew the proposal.

Mr. Dolan then offered a resolution amending Standing Order V, paragraph 7 in order to permit the first ballot to be submitted by mail.

A recess was then taken for Noon Prayers which were conducted by the Rev. Dr. Twelves.

The Bishop then presented a silver tray to Mr. Robert F. Bole, retiring Executive Secretary for Administration, to whom a vote of thanks for his services was given by acclamation.

Discussion of the proposed Amendment to Standing Order V, paragraph 7 to provide for a mail vote on the First Ballot was resumed. Many comments were made which included observations by the Rev. James G. Ludwig, III and the Rev. James R. MacColl, III that they were opposed to any limitation on nominations from the floor; a comment by Mr. Dolan that names in addition to those submitted by the Nominating Committee could be submitted by mail and a suggestion from the Rev. William H. Jefferys, Jr. that the number necessary for a nomination could be reduced from ten to one nominator; a suggestion from the Rev. Robert H. Stetler that no election by mail ballot should prevail unless 75% of the eligible votes in each Order be received and comments from the Rev. James A. Trimble and others in favor of freedom of nominations.

The Chancellor noted that approximately 45 minutes had been consumed on the preceding day when it had been necessary to revise the Report of the Judges of Election; that the counting of a mail ballot would reduce the possibility of mathematical errors and that the objections stated might be avoided by prior written notice to the Deputies with ample time for further nominations.

Dr. Sparkman inquired how claims to seats could be settled in connection with a mail ballot. Dr. Edwards suggested that distribution of ballots on the floor rather than in a separate polling place might expedite the procedure. A suggestion was also made that the report of the Tellers might be abbreviated.

The Chancellor observed that it was evident that the Committee on Canons was about to withdraw the proposed resolution and suggested that the Convention express its opinion as to mail voting assuming that the problems discussed could be eliminated by arrangements which could be submitted to the next Convention. A majority indicated opposition to voting by mail.

Mr. Dolan offered a Resolution, amending Standing Order VII to read as follows, which was adopted:

> All reports of Officers, Committees, Boards, Trustees, etc. to be presented to the Convention, and all motions or resolutions for action comprehended therein, shall be filed in duplicate with the Secretary no later than ten days prior to the Convention in every year. One copy shall be held on file in the office of the Secretary for reference by members of the Convention prior to the opening session. The Secretary shall cause the other copy to be legibly duplicated and delivered to every member of the Convention at the time of report.

Mr. Dolan then offered the following Resolutions which were adopted on separate votes:

> That the Committee on Canons have discretion and authority to determine the typographical process to be employed in preparation of the published volume of the Canons of the Diocese.
> That without alteration of the present order, organization, titles, or subtitles of the Canons, the system of Roman numbering of Canons and their subdivisions be replaced by Arabic, with subdivisions indicated by the use of decimals.

Mr. Dolan, on behalf of the Committee on Canons, called attention to the fact that the Resolutions on clerical salaries and additional material provisions or expense allowances adopted by the 181st Annual Convention in May 1965 (1965 Journal pages 36-37) by implication repeal and supplant resolutions of the Convention of 1962 and other Conventions appearing at pages 110-112, inclusive, of the published volume of Constitution and Canons, with the exception of resolutions of the Conventions of 1952 and 1957 appearing in the middle of page 111 of that volume.

Mr. Dolan then noted that the proposed amendment to Canon VII, Section IV, paragraph 1, previously withdrawn, involved matters other than those related to the Commission on Rector's Salaries and Pensions and presented the following Resolution which was adopted:

> 1. The Executive Office, on or before November 1st of each year, shall notify the proper officers of each Parish, Mission, or Chapel of the amounts of the Assessments for the Support of the Episcopate, and for Convention and Diocesan Administration Expense and for Rectors' Salaries and Pensions, for the ensuing calendar year. Whereupon it shall be the duty of said officers to forward to the Treasurer of the Diocese one quarter of the amount of said Assessments upon receipt of bill therefor, and the remaining three quarters not later than June 1st of the ensuing calendar year. Any Parish or Mission which at the time of meeting of any Convention, annual or special, is delinquent in its payment for the current or any previous year of the amounts so required of it shall be reported by the Executive Office to the Secretary of the Convention as liable to have forfeited its right to representation and vote in that Convention.

A request was made that candidates be identified before voting.

Dr. Aulenbach requested that proposed amendments to Canons be circulated as far ahead of time as circumstances permit. Mr. Dolan, on behalf of the Committee on Canons, indicated a desire to comply with this suggestion.

Mr. Dolan presented the following Resolution which was adopoted:

> RESOLVED, that the Committee on Canons be authorized to prepare and publish a revised volume of the Constitution and Canons, including all amendments to date, the number of copies and the expense of publication to be subject to approval by Diocesan Council.

Mr. Robert E. Krouse presented a Resolution requiring that all changes in Canons recommended by the Committee on Canons be supplied to all Deputies 30 days prior to the Convention so that they may have time to thoroughly read and properly understand such change.

Mr. Dolan referred to earlier comments that the Committee sympathizes with the spirit of the proposed Resolution and stated that the Committee will make every possible effort to circulate the proposed changes but that the canonical requirement that the Committee consider any matter referred to it within 60 days prior to the Convention would make it virtually impossible to comply with the proposed resolution. The Resolution failed.

Harry C. Barbin, Esq., reported for the Committee on Special Resolutions as to the scheduling of each special resolution for consideration at an appropriate point in the agenda and recommended that certain special resolutions be forthwith considered which suggestion was accepted.

The Rev. Hadley B. Williams presented a Resolution which was adopted as follows:

RESOLVED, that each salary paid by the Diocese, in whole or in part, and each allowance for maintenance (housing, utilities, etc.) plus any travel allowance, in whole or in part and the salaries of all rectors, assistants and vicars, be published in the Journal of the Annual Convention of the Diocese of Pennsylvania.

The Rev. James R. MacColl, III presented a Resolution which was adopted as follows:

WHEREAS, the Diocesan Self-Study has revealed certain areas for improvement in our Diocesan life, and

WHEREAS, the Committee on Organization and Structure in developing suggestions and changes which will improve our effectiveness as a diocese, and

WHEREAS, a gift of $50,000 per year for three years has been given for the purpose of continuing the education for ministry of both clergy and laity,

BE IT RESOLVED, that the Diocesan Council be requested to give primary concern to the development of programs which will make this diocese more effective in its mission.

In the discussion on this resolution the Bishop stated that the gift from Mr. and Mrs. Charles Woodward to which the resolution referred had been given to him as Bishop for the use of the Diocese; that the donors had not delineated the method of expenditure and that he considered it an appropriate matter for consideration by the Diocesan Council.

The Rev. Mr. Williams presented a Resolution relating to the Delaware Expressway. The Rev. John Craig Roak spoke in favor of the Resolution describing the changes which the Expressway would create in the neighborhood, particularly the adverse effects of the Expressway on Gloria Dei. He expressed appreciation of the support of the Roman Catholic Archdiocese of Philadelphia and particularly of the Catholic Standard and Times with respect to the position which Gloria Dei urged at various civic meetings. The Rev. James C. Blackburn offered an Amendment to the Resolution which Amendment was approved. The Resolution as amended was adopted as follows:

WHEREAS, that portion of the South Philadelphia Convocation called "Southwark" will be bisected by the Delaware Expressway; and

WHEREAS, some 130 certified historic homes will be destroyed in its wake and 75 families will be displaced; and

WHEREAS, this will isolate Gloria Dei (Old Swedes') Church from the City and leave it threatened and surrounded by concrete traffic lanes; and

WHEREAS, the oldest area of Philadelphia left for restoration and a superb heritage for generations to come will be thereby demolished

RESOLVED, that this Convention enjoin the Federal Bureau of Roads to redesign this part of the highway with the end in view that it accent rather than destroy the City's historic values; specifically that the road be taken off stilts and be depressed and placed on the western side of Delaware Avenue as it passes through Southwark and that it be covered as it passes Gloria Dei Church; and

RESOLVED, that this Convention endorse the proposal of the Committee to Preserve Philadelphia's Historic Gateway that the mid-city section of the Delaware Expressway be put below grade and covered, for the greater protection of Christ Church, Old St. Paul's (Episcopal Community Services) and St. Peter's Church.

The Rev. Edward L. Lee, Jr. invited the attention of the Convention to sundry documents circulated on the floor of the Convention, and inquired who had authority to circulate literature. The Secretary was directed to review this question with other officers of the Convention and to take such action as might be appropriate with respect to the next Convention.

In response to an earlier request for the identification of candidates for office the Secretary introduced a number of candidates in alphabetical order prior to the Third Ballot. It became apparent that some of the candidates were absent from the floor and several of them may have been unaware of the proposed procedure which was thereupon discontinued for the balance of the Convention.

On motion of the Rev. Dr. McKean acting for the Committee on Dispatch of Business a recess was taken until 2:00 P.M. and the polls were open for balloting until 1:15 P.M.

A Resolution was proposed with respect to certain insurance questions relating to group life insurance coverage for the Clergy. It was referred to the Diocesan Council for report at the next Convention.

The Rev. Mr. Jefferys reported that the Bishop's Special Committee on Salaries and Allowances had determined that eligibility for salary increments should be determined by calculating from January 1st following the date of ordination of any clergyman rather than from the anniversary date of his ordination. He briefly explained the convenience of adopting such a standard. The Convention confirmed this action of the Special Committee.

Mr. Jefferys explained that at present funds amounting to approximately $40,000 cannot be applied to clergy in charge of aided parishes. The Chancellor ruled that a two-thirds vote was required to consider this question at this stage of the Convention, which vote carried. Mr. Jefferys thereupon offered a Resolution which was adopted as follows:

RESOLVED, that the Commission on Rectors' Salaries and Pensions is hereby authorized to make its reserve funds available to the Department of Finance of Diocesan Council for application in its discretion to the augmenting of the salaries, material provisions, and other allowances of Clergy of Aided Parishes, pursuant to Canon VIII, Section V, or for payment of the Church Pension Fund assessments of Clergy as required by Canon VII, Sections V and VI.

Harry C. Barbin, Esq. then called for a Resolution passed by the North Philadelphia Convocation, October 12, 1965 relating to the administration of Federal income taxes and Social Security taxes withheld from the salaries of certain Clergy and authorizing, but not requiring, the Treasurer of the Diocese to retain such funds and disburse them to the appropriate Federal authorities. The Rev. Walter G. Martin spoke in favor of the resolution and stated the reasons for it, emphasizing that the procedures were entirely voluntary. Dr. Purdie and Dean Harris, together with other speakers, questioned the propriety of the proposed procedures under applicable Federal law and the regulations of the Internal Revenue Service. The matter was referred to the Chancellor for further reference to a Vice Chancellor or appropriate Committee for future consideration.

G. Selden Pitt, Esq., Chairman, reported for the Committee on Incorporation and moved the following Resolutions which were adopted:

RESOLVED, that the proposed amended Articles of Incorporation of ST. PAUL'S EPISCOPAL CHURCH, DOYLESTOWN, BUCKS COUNTY, PENNSYLVANIA, be approved and that permission be given to apply to the proper court to grant the same.

RESOLVED, that the proposed amended Articles of Incorporation of THE RECTOR, CHURCH WARDENS AND VESTRYMEN OF ST. PETER'S CHURCH, GERMANTOWN, IN THE CITY OF PHILADELPHIA, PENNSYLVANIA, be approved and that permission be given to apply to the proper court to grant the same.

The Judges of Election reported the result of the Third Ballot (Appendix A, page 45).

The Secretary announced and the Chair confirmed the following elections:

For Clerical Deputies to the 62nd General Convention: the Rev. John J. Albert, the Very Rev. Edward G. Harris

For Lay Member of the Standing Committee: The Hon. E. Leroy van Roden.

For Diocesan Council: Clerical Member, the Rev. Harry R. Johnson; Lay Member, Murray G. Smyth, Jr., M.D.

The Rev. Eugene Lefebvre withdrew his name as a candidate for the Diocesan Council.

The Secretary declared that there remained one office to be filled, namely one additional Clerical Member of the Diocesan Council. Dean Wainwright moved that the Clergy and Lay ballots be added together to determine this election. The Chancellor ruled that such procedure would be out of order with respect to a ballot already taken but would be appropriate on a subsequent ballot. Dean Wainwright withdrew his motion and on motion of the Rev. Mr. Jefferys the Convention determined that the candidate receiving the largest number of combined Clerical and Lay votes on the Fourth Ballot be declared elected to the Diocesan Council.

The Rev. Canon Vail announced the nomination to the Cathedral Chapter by the Bishop, with the approval of the Standing Committee, of the Rev. Elbert K. St. Claire, the Rev. Charles H. Long, D.D., Mr. D. Rice Longaker and Robert Hauslohner, Esq.

It was also announced that the Bishop has received from the Rev. Charles D. Snowden a resignation on behalf of his Father, the Rev. Chauncey E. Snowden, from the Cathedral Chapter by reason of infirmities, which resignation has been accepted with regret. Canon Vail announced the nomination by the Bishop, with the approval of the Standing Committee, of the Rev. Gustave J. Weltsek, Jr., for the balance of the term of the Rev. Dr. Snowden. These actions were confirmed by the Convention.

Canon Vail announced the nomination by the Bishop of the following Examining Chaplains for a term of three years: the Rev. Norman J. Faramelli, the Rev. John T. Hardwick, the Rev. Joseph H. Laird, the Rev. T. Gordon Ott, S.T.D. and the Rev. Walter W. Ware, and, to fill the balance of the term of the Rev. David Holmes, deceased, the Rev. Stanley Johnson. These appointments were confirmed by the Convention.

The Rev. Mr. Jefferys introduced a Resolution which was adopted as follows:

RESOLVED, that any parish or mission anticipating the possibility of being unable to meet the minimum salary of the clergy has the right to apply to the Commission on Rectors' Salaries and Pensions for aid.

The Rev. Charles H. Long, Jr. asked leave to offer a Resolution relating to the Greater Philadelphia Council of Churches which was granted by the necessary two-thirds vote of the Convention. The Resolution was adopted as follows:

RESOLVED, that this Convention commends the Greater Philadelphia Council of Churches upon the occasion of its Twentieth Anniversary, and affirms its support of that Council for future years.

Mr. Samuel H. Ballam presented the Report of the Cathedral Chapter by title. (Appendix G-4, page 64).

The Rev. Dr. Sparkman having previously presented the report of the Department of Finance by title, on behalf of that Department expressed appreciation for the services of Mr. Bole and introduced Mr. Bole's successor, Mr. Walter J. Robertson.

Dr. Sparkman then introduced Mr. Frederic C. Wheeler who reported to the Convention the action taken by the Diocesan Council with respect to the acquisition of the premises 204 South 19th Street, Philadelphia, which immediately adjoins the Church House to the south. The transaction has not been completed. The Diocesan Council, on the recommendation of the Department of Finance, is in process of acquiring these premises, subject to a right of the seller and his wife to occupy a portion of the premises for life and subject to their agreement to pay their proportionate part of certain expenses relating to the premises. Mr. Wheeler also reported that arrangements had been completed whereby the Western Saving Fund Society will lend $100,000 toward the purchase price of $150,000 to be paid in full over a period of 25 years with interest at 5½%. The Bishop expressed the thanks of the Diocese to Mr. Wheeler for his efforts in arranging these matters. This was greeted with applause.

Mrs. Siter Owen presented the report of the Diocesan Committee on Mutual Responsibility and Interdependence in the Body of Christ ("M.R.I.") (Appendix G-20, page 97).

The report of the Committee on Research and Planning was presented by the Rev. John A. Schultz, assisted by Mr. Robert Allen. In a departure from usual practice, this report was presented by a film strip projected by Mr. Allen on a large screen with commentary by the Rev. Mr. Schultz. A summary of his comments appears in Appendix G-16, page 84. The material presented included particulars as to the standing of the Diocese in comparison with other Dioceses of the Church judged by a variety of criteria, examination of changes in population trends in the Diocese, study of comparative giving in this and other Dioceses, and consideration of various financial, geographical and other statistical data presented visually by maps, graphs and charts. The Rev. Mr. Schultz commented on the projected needs for new parishes within the Diocese for the next 10 years, changes in the number of baptized persons and communicants, and the fact that the level of moneys pledged and given per communicant was materially lower than the national average.

The Report of the Trustees of the Christmas Fund was submitted by Mr. Frederick C. Drayton by title (Appendix I, page 110).

The Report of the Church of the Advocate was presented by the Rev. Paul M. Washington by title (Appendix T, page 150). He stated that he would welcome the evaluation proposal and commented on the need for the work of the Advocate and on the interest of various Government agencies therein.

Mr. A. Mitchell Shumate presented the report of the Church Foundation by Title (Appendix G-1, page 60). He introduced Ernest Scott, Esq., who described the work of the Church Foundation, and pointed out that the Foundation will now accept trusts amounting to not less than $20,000 of principal, income of which is payable to not over two life beneficiaries, each of whom must be over 50 years of age, with remainder to the Church Foundation.

The Rev. Dr. Purdie presented the Report of Episcopal Community Services and of the Children's Center, by title and advised that these reports are on file at and may be obtained from Episcopal Community Services office at 225 South 3rd St.

Mr. J. Ebert Butterworth presented the Report of Episcopal Hospital by title (Appendix U, page 155). He commented on the increased need for funds for the Chaplaincy program and introduced the Rev. Benjamin Axleroad who described this program.

The Rev. Dr. MacColl presented the report of the Standing Committee by title (Appendix F, page 59).

The Very Rev. Francis P. Davis presented the Report of the Board of Examining Chaplains by title (Appendix G-2, page 62). He commented concerning the work of the Board and particularly that of the Rev. Warren Davis in licensing and examining lay readers. He offered the following Resolution which was adopted:

RESOLVED that an appropriation of $150. for expenses of the Board of Examining Chaplains be continued.

Harry C. Barbin, Esq., Chairman of the Committee on Special Resolutions, stated that Mr. Cedric C. Philipp of Trinity Church, Gulph Mills, wished to offer a Special Resolution, requiring further biographical particulars with respect to nominees at future Conventions and requiring a brief statement by such nominees. Mr. Barbin stated that the consideration of such a Resolution requires the vote of a two-thirds majority. Mr. Philipp described the Resolution, the Chair ruled that further comment thereon required a vote to suspend the rules. This vote failed to carry.

The Rev. Dr. McKean presented the following resolutions which were adopted:

RESOLVED, that the Bishop be authorized to appoint the Committees following the adjournment of the Convention.

RESOLVED, that the 183rd Annual Convention be held on Friday, January 20 and Saturday, January 21, 1967 at the Benjamin Franklin Hotel, Philadelphia, if that place be available, and otherwise at a place to be designated by the Diocesan Council.

(In the discussion as to the place of Convention the Rev. Dr. Pratt stated that the facilities of the Church of the Holy Trinity would be available for the Diocese and he and others pointed out that the number of persons attending the Convention somewhat exceeded the convenient capacity of that Church.)

RESOLVED, that the thanks of the Convention be extended to the Committee on Arrangements, the Rev. James Blackburn, Chairman; to the ladies recruited by Mrs. Leo; to the young people who have assisted as tellers, hostesses and in other capacities; and to the Rev. Jere S. Berger for his assistance to the Committee on Arrangements.

RESOLVED, that 1,250 copies of the Journal and 1,000 copies of the Directory be printed and distributed as usual.

RESOLVED, that the Treasurer of the Diocese be authorized to pay the Assistant Secretary of the Convention the honorarium of $100 plus reimbursement for his expenses in connection with this Convention.

RESOLVED, that the Committee on Expenses pay the expenses of this Convention.

The Bishop declared that the 183rd Convention would be held on Friday, January 20 and Saturday, January 21, 1967.

The Rev. Dr. McKean reported that the remaining business of the Convention concerned the Report of the Judges of Election and Tellers on the Fourth Ballot and suggested that the Convention adjourn upon receipt of that ballot and declaration of election thereon. The Bishop suggested that he would pronounce the Benediction prior to the completion of the election in order that the Deputies having other appointments might be excused. These proposals were approved. The Bishop thereupon pronounced the Benediction and excused such members of the Convention as wished to withdraw.

The Judges reported the result of the Fourth Ballot (Appendix A, page 40). The Secretary announced and the Chair confirmed the election of the Rev. James G. Ludwig as a Clerical Member of the Diocesan Council.

The Convention thereupon adjourned at 5:10 P.M.

BISHOP'S ADDRESS

APPENDIX B

It was just one year and nine months ago that we were together for my first Convention with you. I had been with you only three short weeks. You didn't know me, and I didn't know you.

More importantly, I was the third Bishop to serve you as Diocesan in a period of twelve short months. Bishop Hart's retirement following two decades of continuity of leadership had seen Bishop Armstrong succeed him, only for Bishop Armstrong to be lost to us by an untimely death just a few months later.

The bewilderment and confusion resulting from such a rapid succession of leadership are considerable, and difficult. The laymen present can understand this if they think of what it would mean to be working in a business which had three successive presidents in one year. Or think of this in terms of a parish. Let us say that your rector retires after twenty years, is succeeded after a few months by a man whom you had never known before. Vestry and parish organizations would find a new and unknown hand on the helm, and those in need of pastoral counsel would deeply miss a familiar and trusted pastor. I use this analogy of a parish in order that the laymen may understand more clearly the recent experience of the clergy. The Bishop is especially the pastor to the clergy. And no acceleration of meetings, overnight conferences, innumerable luncheons singly and in small groups, and office conversations can begin to produce the familiarity and confidence which result from years of living and working together.

It is important for us to see this. To see how much this has had to do, for example, with the valid concern of many over better communications between Bishop and clergy. And more pervasively, how much this has had to do with a general feeling of disarray in the life of the diocese — matters of morale, and uncertainty. I am deeply grateful to the clergy for their forbearance during this period, and for the wise counsel and support many of them have given me. And equally, I am confident that every month that passes will see a deepening of our mutual trust and confidence, better morale and more certainty.

But there is another factor, equally or more important for us to see. This factor also has to do deeply with the feeling of disarray, the failure of confidence in our situation, the uncertainty and the lowness of morale. This factor is the general tone and tenor of our parochial and diocesan life, as reflected in and described by the recent Diocesan Self-Study. I hope that the clergy and laity of every congregation will make careful study and have wide discussion of their own parochial appraisal. Not grudgingly or of necessity, but for the sake of the freedom and new life for which the truth can free us. I would hope further that all people in the diocese will read carefully the general diocesan report and recommendations from that same study, as printed in the current issue of The Church News.

There are some dominant weaknesses which characterize the diocese, — and the diocese, of course, is a composite of the parishes and missions which constitute it.

The first mark is a note of discouragement. "The possibility of a slide into negation" is the phraseology of the report. When a graph shows the flattening out of the lines of progress, this is disheartening. When more expressways are needed, when a crash program of school construction is needed, when in short the population is greatly expanding, — at such a time to have a church which is shrinking! When a church sees that, for twenty years or more, membership and attendance and organizational activity have continued to drop, hope drops with them. It takes a very special kind of fortitude and courage to be the rector or the senior warden, or a vestryman, or a parishioner of such a parish!

The second mark is parochialism, the self-isolation, the insularism which characterizes the life of many of our congregations. This has long been a factor in the life of our Episcopal church generally, but it is peculiarly so in this diocese.

The third mark is the inadequacy of our adult education. Too many of us know too little, not only about the Christian faith, but also about the Christian life. There is a tendency for our religion to be limited to a Sunday observance, rather than being a means of strength and renewal for all of our life and work.

The fourth mark is the low level of giving in the diocese. This is perhaps not surprising in the light of the other factors mentioned. But it is sobering that in a diocese in this section of Pennsylvania the average Episcopalian pledges 20% less than Episcopalians nationally.

The Self-Study makes it clear that the picture of the diocese it reveals is not one of sudden origin, but rather has been a gradual process over the past many years. If we were to try to find the day of greatest affluence and largest membership and broadest influence for some of our churches, for example, we would have to go back to the turn of the century. Nor should this surprise us. The demand for adjustment to changing times and circumstances is a demand laid upon every facet of our life today. For example, "Urban Renewal" is the result of the awareness of the deterioration of our great cities, and of the need to do something about it. For another example, the unprecedented concern over public education today is the measure of the gradual erosion of the school system, and of the need to correct this.

These are examples from the secular world. Are we surprised that such problems have their parallels in the Church? We shouldn't be. Surely we are aware of the great concern over this same kind of up-dating which has been the theme of the recent Ecumenical Council of the Roman Catholic Church.

All of these struggles toward renewal in various phases of life remind us of one of the great facts of our time, — that late Twentieth Century Man is an immigrant. He has left the former age, and has come to a new age. This new age affects his technology, his community, his family, and his religion. Now, immigration is a painful process. It is like bereavement. It means relinquishing the familiar, and encountering the new and strange. We have seen this visibly in matters pertaining to the relationships between the races. When in one body of people there are groups with divergent attitudes and opinions, it is our ministry of reconciliation to reach out to both groups. At times, this means quite a "two-way stretch." But in so stretching, we strike a posture which should be familiar — and sacred — to all Christians.

Immigration is a painful process, but it is a glorious challenge. And it is one of the great traditions in which we stand as Americans. We are all the children of immigrants. Our forebears left the land which produced them, forsook the old ways, the old language. And as they faced the new land, the new ways, the new language, they often did so with bewilderment, with resentment, with nostalgia. It is interesting to reflect upon how closely that characterizes some of the noticeable feelings abroad in our diocese today, — bewilderment, resentment and nostalgia. But let us realize that these feelings are by no means directed toward the Church alone. Let us remember that these same reactions characterize much of the attitude of people toward our schools, our cities, our communities, and our family life. "Why can't we just teach the three R's the way we used to?" "This city is just too big." "This neighborhood is not the same as it used to be." "Children don't respect their parents the way they used to." Do not such comments sound familiar? Our forebears were immigrants in terms of geography. We are immigrants in terms of time. They migrated to a new world, we are migrating to a new age. Yes, we are immigrants to a new age, in every area of life.

However, our forebears, as we well know, also faced the new world with faith and hope. And in the power of that faith and hope they were able to leave behind what had to be left behind, and to build a new world. We are the beneficiaries of their faith and hope, the recipients of the new world they built. Can we, with equal faith and hope, build a new age for our children and for our children's children?

I would like to say that to me the most impressive thing about the Diocese of Pennsylvania is not its weaknesses of fabric and morale. (To reiterate — these weaknesses should not surprise us. "Change and decay in all around we see ———.") No, to me the most impressive thing about this diocese is the evidence of new life. The movement of the spirit is reflected in many facets of our diocesan life. This diocese is on the move! Let me mention some concrete evidence of this.

The Diocesan Committee on Organization and Structure has been working hard and well under the chairmanship of Dr. Purdie. How important this group is — constantly considering how the diocesan organization can be a more effective instrument for the work we have to do. This committee continues to study the diocesan structure to see whether and how additional Episcopal assistance is needed. They are largely responsible for the temporary presence of Bishop Swift in our midst. He has only just come to us, but already we have good reason to be grateful for his ministry amongst us.

Another example: a specific suggestion coming from one of the subcommittees of that group, under the chairmanship of Dr. MacColl, has designed a new pattern of visitation by the Bishop so that he can much better come to know the people of the diocese, and they him.

Another subcommittee, chaired by Father Paige, suggested the current three-year experimentation with group confirmation services. Perhaps I should say again that at times we are bewildered, resentful and nostalgic! There have been problems of logistics and difficulties in arrangements, but these are all in process of solution. We should remember the two great reasons for this plan. First, it makes possible a much more meaningful visitation by the Bishop, because the visitation does not center about a confirmation service. And equally important, the plan dramatizes visibly that a person is confirmed into a wider fellowship of Christians than just his local parish. I have told some of you of the vicar of a struggling mission who each year would have his confirmation class make a visit to a large and beautiful church in his diocese. As they were conducted on a guided tour, he would remind them that this, too, was a part of their diocese. Had the rector of the large parish taken his confirmation class to the little mission on a visit, it would have been even more meaningful. For we are parts of one family, and as the Self-Study points out, we need ways of being reminded of this.

The Research and Planning group, chaired by Mr. Sydney Lea, which oversaw the Diocesan Self-Study, is continuing to work on the data of our diocesan life. A special report later in this Convention will demonstrate the kind of work it is doing. This group was also responsible for the study which resulted in the new salary scale for clergy which was approved at our last Convention. At one of my visitations recently, I asked the clergyman, who had been poorly paid for years, how his morale was. With a smile, he replied, "It's much better since the new salary scale went into effect!" Research and data can help us to be a more caring and Christian diocesan family.

Another example: a great deal of imagination is being devoted to better communications in the diocese. Informal briefing sessions are being held frequently for the clergy, with their opinions being sought on many matters. Similar meetings have been held across the diocese with the laity, so they can know more accurately what is going on and can have an opportunity to give their reactions.

Another example: significant experimentations are beginning with interparochial cooperation, whereby suburban and urban churches are pairing together for mutual benefit and enrichment of program.

Another example: our Diocesan Campaign for All Saints Hospital under the wise and tireless direction of Mr. Charles Ritchie will present a good report later in this Convention.

A final example: for this current year our budget badly needs more financial support from the parishes and missions, but we should all be inspired by the fact that the average giving from the parishes and missions shows about a 10% increase over last year.

These are some of the examples which come to mind of how this diocese is on the move. They are greatly encouraging.

One great void remains a deficiency underlined by the Self-Study. It is the matter of adult christian education. We should put this in a wider context. We could recall that we are, as it were, immigrants to a new age. We need to go to school in this new age, to learn its ways, its words, its weaknesses. We need to deepen our understanding of the eternal good news so we can speak it lovingly and savingly to the modern world, the modern world to which we have come as immigrants. This is an ongoing process for we live in an age of constant and rapid change. Thus, our need is for a process of continuing education for the ministry of clergy and laity. Our need is for a process of learning experiences whereby we can constantly renew the effectiveness whereby we do our task as a diocese.

How this is to be accomplished is a challenging question. But count our assets. Scores and scores and scores of churches whose proper business, whose sole justification, is to proclaim the good news with the sharpest effectiveness to this new age. Secondly, a great company of theologically-trained clergy. Thirdly, a veritable army of lay persons, many of whom would welcome an opportunity to be a part of a resurgence of the vitality of the Church. Fourthly, colleges and universities whose faculties could be of great help in such a program. Fifthly, a divinity school in the heart of our diocese which is vital, excellently staffed, and which would willingly assist us in this process, beyond their present central task of preparing men for ordination.

And finally, it is a source of great joy to me to be able to report to you a gift to the diocese in the amount of $50,000 per year for three years to initiate such a problem. It is fitting that Mr. and Mrs. Charles Woodward are making this gift in memory of his mother, Gertrude Houston Woodward, whose interest in and love for the Church in a prior generation were very real. I rejoice in the devotion and concern of these donors who are establishing this memorial gift in such an imaginative way. They are assisting the diocese at its point of greatest need.

I think it no exaggeration to say that this year could be a major milestone in the long and distinguished life of this diocese. The year we read the signs of the times. The year we broke out of the bondage of inertia. The year we began once again to move.

This diocese is on the move! The Book of Exodus tells us of the people of Israel who found themselves emigrants, leaving Egypt in search of the Promised Land. They, too, were bewildered, resentful, and homesick. And God's word was "Speak to the children of Israel that they go forward." And they did.

God's word for us is: "Speak to the people of God here, that they go forward!" And we will!

TREASURER'S REPORT

The Annual Report of the Treasurer of the Diocese of Pennsylvania is submitted herewith. Details pertaining to these reports are available for examination at the Church House.

The year ended with a total of $883,117.30 received from parishes and missions of which $441,558.65 was sent to Executive Council.

Expenditures were larger than budgeted in the Missionary Fund and $17,042.81 was charged to Unallocated Missionary Suspense Fund.

Many changes affecting the Treasurer's Office took place during the year, among the most noteworthy being a decision to return to a streamlined manual system of bookkeeping. We received indispensible and generous help from Matthew Costigan from Executive Council in this matter. Most significant were personnel changes; Mrs. Adams retired after 13 years of dedicated work. Mr. Bole, involved in so many affairs diocesan and consistently faithful and patient in so many areas to so many people, retired at year end. We are most grateful for their good work.

Respectfully submitted,

CHARLES L. RITCHIE, JR.
Treasurer

REPORT OF THE STANDING COMMITTEE

May 1965 to January 1966

At the stated meeting of the Standing Committee held on May 26, 1965, the committee received the report of the Secretary of Convention that the Convention had elected to the Standing Committee the Rev. Peter C. Van der Hiel, Jr. and Townsend Munson for a term of five years, expiring February 1970; and the Rev. Ernest A. Harding, D.D., to serve the unexpired term of the Rev. Richard T. Lyford, expiring in 1968.

The Rev. James R. MacColl, III, D.D. was elected President and Townsend Munson was elected Secretary of the Standing Committee.

The President appointed the following committees:

COMMITTEE ON THE EPISCOPATE — The Rev. Peter C. Van der Hiel, Jr.

BUDGET COMMITTEE — Frederic C. Wheeler (Chairman), the Very Rev. Jesse F. Anderson, S.T.D., and S. Stoney Simons.

Harry C. Barbin, Esq. and John Butterworth, Esq. were reappointed Vice-Chancellors of the Diocese.

At the September meeting, arrangements for a ceremony of dedication of Bishop Armstrong's portrait were discussed.

In October, the Committee recommended to Diocesan Council the purchase of the property at 204 South Nineteenth Street.

The appointment of Henry T. Dolan, Esq. as a Vice-Chancellor of the Diocese was unanimously approved.

During the course of the year, a number of applications were received under Diocesan Canon XII for the sale or encumbrance of various parish properties.

Since the 181st Diocesan Convention, the applications of 7 Candidates for Holy Orders, 3 applications for ordination to the Diaconate, and 5 applications for ordination to the Priesthood have been recommended to the Bishop.

Respectfully submitted,
TOWNSEND MUNSON
Secretary

THE CHURCH FOUNDATION

Preliminary Report for 1965 to The Diocesan Convention

To the Delegates:

With the change in the date of the Convention from May to January this year, we are regretfully unable to compile our full Annual Report in time for submission to you now.

This Preliminary Report will seek merely to touch the highlights of our unfinished year's operations. Our regular Annual Report for 1965 will be made available to you in due course.

THE CHURCH FOUNDATION

FUNDS

During the first three quarters of 1965 we received new funds (including additions to existing funds) in the amount of $516,749.11. Of this total some $424,112.60 was invested in units of our Consolidated Fund, and the balance of $92,636.51 went into units of the Legal Fund.

The Unit Values in both funds remained, during the first three quarters of the year, very close to their levels of December 1964, which is to say, very close to their all-time highs.

REAL ESTATE

In an active year we have made the following transactions: Sold the old vicarage of St. Mary, Chester; and bought a new one. Collected highway damages of $55,100 for St. Luke, Chester. Bought ground and a new rectory for a new church to combine the congregations of St. Luke, Chester and St. Martin, Marcus Hook. Taken title to a dwelling in Berwyn, which will eventually benefit St. Mary's, Wayne, under the Mansley Fund. Bought a new vicarage for St. Peter, Glenside. Bought a new vicarage for St. Dunstan, Blue Bell. Sold St. Monica's Church, West Philadelphia. Sold the old Parish House of Incarnation, Morrisville. Sold ground for St. Philip, Oreland. Sold the property of St. John, Baptist. Accomplished four "double transfers" to permit the placing of mortgages at Trinity, Buckingham; St. Andrew, West Vincent; Trinity, Gulph Mills; and Holy Trinity, Lansdale. Made permanent transfers of real estate to the parish corporations at St. Thomas, West Philadelphia and St. John, Huntingdon Valley.

BUILDING CONTRACTS

Work on the new church for St. Dunstan's, Blue Bell, after many difficulties, is proceeding at high speed.

The year 1965 saw the completion of our building contracts for Grace, Hulmeville; Good Shepherd, Hilltown; and St. James, Green Ridge.

INSURANCE

Numerous increases in Fire Insurance, including other Property risks, were recorded in the first nine months of 1965.

A most important decision of the Pennsylvania Supreme Court, last March, laid churches wide open to claims by the public for injury or damage sustained on church properties or through church operations. By letter, we called this matter to the attention of all churches in the diocese. Be sure that you are carrying liability insurance. Be sure also that you have enough of it.

We continue to recommend to all vestries the Church Comprehensive Policy. This form of protection gives more coverages, plugs loopholes, and usually involves a saving in overall annual cost.

As usual, numerous claim settlements passed through our hands during the past year.

LIFE INCOME TRUSTS

Just in the fall of 1965 we were able to notify churches and individuals throughout the diocese that The Church Foundation can now offer Life Income Trusts.

Under such a trust a person who has attained age 50 deposits with us a sum of $20,000 or more. The actual earned income on the fund, less a modest administration charge, will be paid to the donor for life. The donor can also name a second beneficiary to receive a continued income during his or her life. Several tax advantages can be obtained which will greatly increase the donor's spendable income. The larger the fund, the more important are the tax savings.

Eventually either principal or income (or a combination of the two) will be paid to the donor's church or church-related charity.

FINALLY

We welcome requests for our full Annual Report, which will appear in about two months after Convention.

We also welcome inquiries for further information on any of the following subjects:

- Life Income Trusts.
- Investing a church fund.
- Church Comprehensive form of insurance.
- Making a church-related bequest.
- Any other matter within our field.

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF EXAMINING CHAPLAINS TO THE CONVENTION — 1966

The Board has held four meetings during the year, namely March 24th, April 26th, May 17th, and November 29th. There was also considerable correspondence between the chairman and various board members as well as innumerable phone calls concerning individual cases and special work. At the organizational meeting in May the Rev. Francis P. Davis was elected chairman of the Board and the Rev. T. Gordon Ott, S.T.D., was elected secretary.

Regular examinations were held on the Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday in Thanksgiving week and on the Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday following Easter. During the year twenty-three men were examined for a total of one hundred seventy-one examinations (twenty-two of the examinations being by mail). One man was examined in one subject for the Diocese of Western Michigan. Recommendations for dispensation from Greek for two candidates were made to the Bishop.

The Rev. John F. Hardwick is now directing the studies of those seeking ordination to the Perpetual Diaconate, and Warren H. Davis, Jr., has assumed the same responsibility for those desiring to be licensed as Lay Readers.

The following have been recommended as Candidates during the Convention year:

Michael P. N. Hoffacker
John Muller, Jr.
Richard William Pfaff
Thomas Walter Platt
E. Douglas White
Carl Jon Widing

The following have been recommended for ordination to Holy Orders:

Michael Jack Campbell
John William Kline
Thomas Edward Lippart
Paul Everett Meglathery
Jack C. Potter
Ralph C. Roth
Don F. Vandegrift

Currently two men are working in preparation for the Perpetual Diaconate but no additional candidates are anticipated for the year ahead.

The Board offers the following resolution:

RESOLVED, that the appropriation of $150.00 for expenses required in Board business be continued.

Respectfully submitted,

FRANCIS P. DAVIS
Chairman

Attest: T. GORDON OTT
Secretary

APPENDIX G-3

PAROCHIAL HISTORY COMMITTEE

The Parochial History Committee is charged with gathering together pamphlets, histories and other papers and clippings of interesting events of the several parishes and missions of the diocese. These are filed in containers in a room on the fourth floor of the Church House. We depend upon the cooperation of the parishes in sending us material of interest. The records are of course available to those who are searching for information about the past history of their parish. We also keep a card index of dates and important events of parishes and a brief history of the clergy of the diocese.

It is important that a person or persons be appointed in each parish as a Historian, whose duty should be to gather material of interest, such as clippings, pictures and pamphlets. These will prove of great value when it comes to writing a history of the parish. When any historical event takes place in a parish, some record of this should be sent to the Church House.

During the past year a number of short historical sketches of little known facts about the diocese have appeared in the Church News, as well as several articles recalling certain periods of past events in the diocese.

We keep a complete set of Diocesan Journals, and a store room full of old Journals which are available for any that may have use for them. Biographies and scrap books of clergy and parishes are also on our shelves.

Some thought should be given to enlarging the space in which these historical materials are kept, and for their safety, as well as a more modern method of filing and cataloging. We are a very historic diocese, and our documents become more valuable each year.

Historiographer

APPENDIX G-4

REPORT OF THE CATHERAL CHAPTER

1965

Following the receipt of the report of the Special Committee, under the chairmanship of Mr. P. Blair Lee, Bishop DeWitt appointed a committee to study the relationship between St. Mary's Mission and the Cathedral Chapter. Prior to attaining mission status, the congregation had been worshipping in the Cathedral property.

The Cathedral Chapter, together with representatives of the mission, developed an agreement concerning the use of the Cathedral property for mission purposes. Thus, utilization of the property is assured when not required for diocesan functions.

During the year the assets in the Scull Fund and those received in the Staneruck Fund were both added to The Church Foundation. Thus, all principal funds over which the Cathedral has jurisdiction are now invested in The Church Foundation.

The Chapter took special recognition of the long and faithful service provided by the Reverend William N. Lanigan, who resigned as Secretary-Registrar after fifteen years of Service. However, Father Lanigan is continuing to serve the Chapter as a Canon.

Respectfully submitted,

SAMUEL H. BALLAM, JR.
Secretary-Registrar

Report of the Chancellor

During the period since the last convention, the Office of the Chancellor has operated in the usual areas, thanks to the able assistance of the Vice-Chancellors.

There have been certain occurrences during the period which warrant specific comments:

1. Difficulty with two churches with respect to their financial affairs demonstrated clearly the importance of strict enforcement of the Canons relating to proper business methods in Church affairs (Canon XVI) and State of the Church in this Diocese (Canon XV). The responsibility for enforcement of these Canons rests with the Department of Finance and Property under Canon VI.

2. In time, there should be established at the Church House, probably in cooperation with the Committee on Corporations, a file on each parish containing all important basic data such as copies of Charter and By-Laws, the current list of members and the like.

3. Vice-Chancellor Harry C. Barbin collaborated with the Committee on Clergy Salaries in the preparation of a memorandum relating to the tax aspects of rental and other allowances.

The work of the Chancellor is greatly reduced by the help received from the Vice-Chancellors. John Butterworth has taken over full responsibility for the cases relating to the re-married and divorced persons under Canon XVIII of the National Church. Matters involving taxes are normally referred to Harry Barbin. More recently, because of the Chancellor's involvement with the forthcoming United Fund, Henry Thomas Dolan, Esquire, was appointed as an additional Vice-Chancellor.

Respectfully Submitted,

WILLIAM WHITE, ESQ.
Chancellor

APPENDIX G7

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON ECUMENICAL RELATIONS

January, 1966

The Committee has held four meetings since last Convention. Membership at present includes the Rev. Charles H. Long, Jr. (Chairman); Mr. Harry Broadbent, Stanhope S. Browne, Esq., the Rev. Robert E. DuBose, Jr., Mr. Charles Granville, the Rev. Eugene F. Lefebvre (Secretary), the Rev. Robert B. MacDonald, Mrs. Charles Myers, Miss Beryl M. Newman, Mrs. Siter Owen, Mrs. Edward J. Parnum, Mrs. C. Stanley Rogers, the Rev. Daniel B. Stevick, the Rev. Walter R. Strickland and Mr. Fred Witkop.

One function of the Committee is to make recommendations to the Bishop concerning problems in Ecumenical Relations on which he wishes the Committee's advice. Another function is to seek to keep the diocese informed about ecumenical developments which affect the life and work of our Church. Some of this education is carried on through articles in the Church News. Other projects are carried out by the Department of Ecumenical Relations of the Episcopal Church Women, under the direction of Mrs. Edward Parnum. Information concerning the current Church Union negotiations in Canada was mailed directly to all clergymen in the diocese. But in the final year of the Vatican Council special programs of publicity and education were less needed than is usually the case. Because of the news value of the Council, the secular press and other media have given thorough coverage of this event and related ecumenical news concerning other churches.

The Committee is also charged with the responsibility for seeking support from Episcopal sources for the work of the Greater Philadelphia Council of Churches. This annual campaign has been under the leadership of Mr. Harry Broadbent. We are happy that there has been an increase both in the amount of money contributed and in the number of parishes in the diocese that have become members of the Council. Seven members of the Committee serve also as members of the Board of Directors of the Greater Philadelphia Council of Churches and one serves as Vice-President. The Rev. Walter Strickland also represents the diocese on the Board of the Pennsylvania Council of Churches. The Committee is at present making plans for observance of the Week of Prayer for Christian Unity from January 18 to 25; a special diocesan meeting on March 18 at which the speaker will be Mr. Peter Day, Ecumenical Officer of the Executive Council; and an Exchange of Pulpits on April 24 sponsored by the churches participating in the Consultation on Church Union.

Respectfully submitted,

CHARLES H. LONG, JR.

CHRISTIAN FAMILY LIFE
Leaderss The Rev. and Mrs. William H. Genne — Mr. Genne is Executive Director, Commission on Marriage and Family Life, National Council of the Churches of Christ, and Mrs. Genne is co-author with her husband of many books.

As you see, from the foregoing events and the divsion and committee reports which follow, the Department of Christian Education has been changing and moving in new directions in 1965. We hope and trust they are creative. In the course of the year we have studied the structure of the department and are planning what, we hope, will be a more effective use of our forces. We have the good fortune to have twenty-two trained Trainers — more than we have ever had before in our history.

We are looking forward to working on a follow-up program of the Bishop's Clergy Conference which promises some rather exciting possibilities. We are hoping to increase intensive training of parish educational personnel.

Our Executive Director, Miss Beryl M. Newman, continues her work of stretching and supporting the department members along with her overall leadership in the area of Christian education in the diocese; and the department is continually grateful for her leadership.

The department wishes to acknowledge its indebtedness to Miss Emily L. Stanford, assistant to the Executive Secretary, who resigned as of August 31. Miss Stanford was of tremendous help to the department over the seven years she was with us. Her ministry was effectively felt by many during this period and greatly appreciated.

Until we are able to fill this vacancy created by Miss Stanford's resignation, some training events had to be cancelled. A further curtailment of service was the discontinuation of The Memo. Subsequently, tentative plans to have The Memo produced commercially (and mailed in bulk to parishes) have been suspended.

Reports of divisions and committees:

ADULT DIVISION — THE REV. JOHN F. HARDWICK, Chairman

It was decided that the main concern of the Adult Division should be Continuing Education of the Clergy.

To this end a pilot project was developed for the clergy in Bucks County, involving some fifteen clergymen. A preliminary meeting was held at Trinity Church, Solebury, under the leadership of the Rev. Donald L. Farrow and the Rev. John F. Hardwick. Prior to this meeting a data-gathering questionnaire was sent out. The purpose of the meeting was to discuss the results of forms sent out and to ascertain what type of continuing education would be most helpful to the clergy of this area. It was decided to have a speaker for the next meeting — someone outside the theological disciplines who would present his view of the community and area in which the churches involved were situated. Consequently, Dr. David Popenoe, a sociologist connected with the Urban Study Center at Rutgers University, made the presentation and the group reacted in the afternoon. A Steering Committee of three was set up and two subsequent meetings were arranged locally, at which a superintendent of schools and a man involved in local industry were the presenters.

The divsion was involved as part of the Steering Committee in the planning and carrying out of the Atlantic City Clergy Conference called by Bishop DeWitt. At the conclusion of this conference the Bishop charged the Steering Committee to work out some plan whereby the conference could be carried on back in the diocese; and plans made for another gathering of all the clergy in the future. It was decided by the Steering Committee that clergy-lay dialogues on a local-area basis would be the best method to carry out the task assigned by the Bishop. In this context "The Ministry" could be explored in its local settting and data gathered on which to base a future clergy conference. The first area chosen was that of Springfield-Newtown Square, Delaware County. The first step will be to call all the clergy of the parishes involved together to communicate our task as given by the Bishop, share our thoughts as to how it could be carried out, and to seek advice as to how the agreed-upon plan can be best implemented on the local level.

The division has also taken part in an experimental clergy-lay, diocesan-wide program based on the film "The Detached Americans." It is hoped that further such meetings involving sponsorship by the Episcopal Churchwomen, Department of Laymen and the Adult Division can be planned and carried out.

The division has also acted in a consultive basis in the forming of several study groups in different areas of the diocese. It is the Chairman's belief that the only adult education which is realistic today is that which is (1) clergy-lay, (2) ecumenical, (3) inter-racial.

The children responded with written work and letters, and the parents of the sick showed their appreciation by letters and phone calls. All the families were visted and at this time showed their appreciation and interest. The children participated in the Church School Missionary Offering project.

(All conferences well attended — waiting lists for three.)

LEADERSHIP TRAINING DIVISION — The Rev. Richard L. Bartholomew, Chairman

This division has been mostly concerned with securing an adequate core of persons trained to function on the diocesan level (this includes events planned in various areas of the diocese) in the training of parish leaders for responsible leadership training. The Provincial Training Institute (familiarly known as the Three-Phase Institute) has been the primary source of this training program. Twenty-four persons in the diocese have or will have been through this training by early 1966.

All members of the Leadership Training Division will wear two hats: a core of trainers will service on each of the divisions so they will know the purpose, goals and content of the particular concern of that division — as they assume the training of parish personnel dealing with this area of concern.

As members of the Leadership Training Division they will also plan more comprehensive events for basic parish leadership.

The Executive Secretary joins the Chairman in expressing deep appreciation for the creative and outstanding work of the staff in Room 30, and of all members of the department — its divisions and committees.

Respectfully submitted,

DONALD L. FARROW
Chairman

APPENDIX G-9

DEPARTMENT OF CHRISTIAN SOCIAL RELATIONS

Annual Report for 1965

For the concerns of the Diocese of Pennsylvania which are furthered by its Department of Christian Social Relations, the year 1965 has been one of achievements and progress, but also one marked by some uncertainties and as yet unrealized goals.

Some limited goals were achieved. The Resolution of the 1957 Diocesan Convention on immigration saw its fruition in the 1965 immigration legislation; the Resolutions of the 1965 Convention supporting the Philadelphia Home Rule Charter Commission's recommendations concerning the Philadelphia Board of Education and the extension of family planning services to Public Assistance clients were realized in the changes in public law and policy to which the resolutions addressed themselves. The Resolution of the 1964 General Convention advocating the extension of certain public services to youngsters regardless of whether they went to public or private schools was implemented in part by the enactment of the 1965 Pennsylvania School Bus Transportation Law. The objective of the Diocesan Council Resolution of June 11, 1965, concerning Girard College was realized in the transfer of this area of conflict from the streets into the courts.

Despite the observation once made by the House of Bishops that "to grow in love means change for all," the social change to which the Church in this diocese addressed itself in the past year generated probably unparalled expressions of feeling. Changing deeply rooted patterns is painful. In the light of examples of ". . . divisive appeals and tactics . . . anonymous phone calls and letters" condemned by a Resolution of the 1965 Diocesan Convention, the wide-spread response of clergy, vestries, and individual church-people has been supportive.

Although even our limited goals have not been reached in certain areas, there are indications that our continuing concern in some fields — such as the abolition of the penalty of death, greater public support for child care services and for alleviating the burden of poverty — is not being disregarded. Racial understanding was furthered by the happy experience of an increasing number of our Church related schools in making their student bodies multi-racial; by the recommendation of suitable clergy for vacancies in the diocese without reference to racial factors, in keeping with previous Diocesan Convention resolutions, and by the Presiding Bishop's Church and Race Fund to which the diocese has contributed and from which it has benefited. Individuals and parishes in the diocese contributed $22,739.97 to world relief through the Presiding Bishop's Fund. Parishes and department staff members have maintained their contacts with Cuban refugees previously resettled, and one additional Cuban family has been resettled through a parish.

In the area of continuing education, the Department has sponsored four area meetings for clergy and lay people in various areas of the diocese, a Conference on Church and State questions in Downingtown; and provided Episcopalian clergy and lay representation at the Churchmen's Washington Seminar, and Institute for Troubled Youth, a Conference for Pennsylvanians on Church and State sponsored by the Law School of the University of Pennsylvania under a grant from the Philadelphia Foundation, a Clergy Economic Education Foundation Conference, and the Greyston Conference on Poverty sponsored by the national Church. It also undertook to staff the committee appointed by the Bishop to implement within the diocese the House of Bishops' Statement on Poverty.

In its work during the past year, the Department cooperated with the following organizations, among others: The Central Committee on Christian Social Relations of the Five Dioceses of the Episcopal Church in Pennsylvania; Fellowship Commission; the Greater Philadelphia Citizens Committee for the Resettlement of Cuban Refugees; the Greater Philadelphia Council of Churches; the Health and Welfare Council; the Law School of the University of Pennsylvania in its sponsorship of the Conference for Pennsylvanians on Church and State; and the Pennsylvania Citizens Council.

All the members of the Department join to pay tribute to the leadership of my predecessor, Louis Marshall Ream and to thank the Bishop and the staff of the diocese for the support and encouragement received from them in this difficult and exciting year just ended.

APPENDIX G-10

CORPORATION FOR CHRISTIAN WORK IN EDUCATIONAL INSTITUTIONS

REPORT TO THE PRESIDENT to the
DIOCESAN CONVENTION 1966

A very definite increase in the interest and scope of the work of the Corporation for Christian Work in Educational Institutions has been noted in the past year. On-going projects have expanded, the activities and responsibilities of the director have broadened, and new directions have been taken.

The Corporation continues to maintain co-operative relations with other church boards, foundations, and campus ministries. There are now nine full-time chaplains, sixteen part-time chaplains, and other field workers working co-operatively with the Corporation. Recent additions to the group include the Rev. J. Michael Porteus, ministering in an ecumenical capacity to the Main Line area, and the Rev. Richard Hess, acting as part-time chaplain to the Eastern Baptist College, in addition to his parish work at St. David's, Radnor. These chaplains and college workers met with the members of the Corporation in a special annual meeting which provided personal interpretation and clarification of campus ministry. The luncheon meeting was held in October, 1965, at St. Christopher's Church, Gladwyne.

In September, 1965, the Corporation sponsored a conference for college students of the area at the Denbigh Conference Center, entitled "Count-Down for College III." This was a jointly-planned program with the Department of Christian Education. Another conference was held at Denbigh in November, 1965, at which time the Rev. Joseph Fletcher, S.T.D., Robert Treat Paine Professor of Social Ethics at Episcopal Theological School, was the principal speaker. The theme of the conference was "The New Morality."

In October, 1965, the Corporation sponsored a program including a service of Evensong at St. Mary's Church, with the Rt. Rev. Robert L. DeWitt as preacher, and a dinner which followed the service. Dr. E. Digby Baltzell, Associate Professor of Sociology at the University of Pennsylvania and an active member of the Corporation, spoke on the subject of "The New Morality." This annual Academic Service and Dinner was attended by students, faculty and administrators from colleges throughout the diocese.

The Corporation has also been sponsoring a program in the secondary schools which has shown steady growth, and future expansion in this area is predicted.

The annual campaign for funds for the work of the Corporation continues to expand, and greater interest is shown by the increase in contributions this year.

The Corporation, through the work of the director, is responsible for the Voluntary Service Program of the Diocese. The college work is carried on through the formal machinery of the Metropolitan Strategy Committee, and by informal contact with other ministries such as the Baptist, Lutheran, Methodist, Presbyterian, and United Church of Christ, as well as through contacts with the Newman Apostolate of the Roman Catholic Church.

The work of soliciting funds for the Ronald J. McCarthy Memorial Fund continues, with E. Osborne Coates, Corporation member, as chairman of the committee.

Corporation members, in addition to their own professorial or ministerial assignments, participate in Corporation activities: Mr. Anthony W. Ridgway is a representative, with Dr. Blewett, of the Corporation on the Advisory Board at Drexel Institute of Technology, while J. Hazen Hardy, Esq., has been elected Chairman of the Metropolitan Strategy Committee.

The activities of the Rev. William E. Blewett, Ph.D., Director of the Corporation, have continued to expand:

A. In the summer of 1965, he was leader of a group of students doing voluntary service work in Tanzania, Africa, sponsored by the Executive Council of the Episcopal Church and the Committee on Voluntary Service.

B. He has served on the Protestant Advisory Board at Temple University, the Center City Christian Council, the Main Line Ecumenical Campus Committee, the Drexel Protestant Advisory Board, the Middle Atlantic Regional Counseling Commission, and the Metropolitan Strategy Committee.

C. He is a member of the National Council of Churches' Commission on Ecumenical Voluntary Service Projects and is Chairman of the Strategy Committee for Campus Ministry in Pennsylvania, where he represents the Episcopal Church.

D. He has acted as a leader for workshops on college work in the Diocese of West Virginia and the Diocese of Harrisburg; he has provided leadership for the Regional Ecumenical Conference held at Beaver College in 1965; he has acted as a representative of the Third Province at the annual meeting of the National Commission for College Work; he gave the Invocation and the Benediction at the Graduation Exercises of Moore College of Art in June, 1965.

At the Annual Meeting of the Corporation in May, 1965, the following officers were elected: President, Mrs. Raymond A. Ballinger; Vice-President, Henry Wells, Ph.D.; Secretary, Anthony W. Ridgway; Treasurer, John Butterworth, Esq. Associate members elected for one-year terms were: E. Digby Baltzell, Ph.D., John Butterworth, Esq., Mrs. Karl H. Beyer, the Very Rev. Edward G. Harris, D.D., the Rev. Edward B. Pollanick, Henry T. Reath, Esq., and the Rev. Warren H. Davis, Jr.

The work of the Corporation and the leadership provided by its director, Dr. William E. Blewett, is gaining greater interest in and support for the program; it is providing leadership in a wider range of educational institutions and related services and is promoting co-operative work with students and faculty at the secondary and college levels, not only in the Diocese, but in the state, the Province, and the nation.

Respectfully submitted,
LOUISE B. BALLINGER
(Mrs. Raymond A.)
President

DEPARTMENT OF COMMUNICATIONS

Communications, both internal and external, continue to be of vital importance to the welfare of the diocese.

During the past year the department underwent several major changes. It lost its chairman and its executive director. However, it continued to operate most effectively while undergoing a complete reorganization.

Under the direction of Mrs. JoAnn Goodman, the Journal of the Convention was published, as was the Directory of the Diocese. This was completely redesigned and greatly improved. Under Mrs. Goodman's editorship several changes were made in the Church News to give this publication greater purpose and readability.

During the past year, Bishop de Witt, at the House of Bishops, accepted the Presiding Bishop's Award for the Church News, which was selected as the best diocesan newspaper in the United States. It is sincerely felt that the recent editorial changes will further improve this publication and enhance its value to its 55,000 readers.

The department, in an advisory capacity, handled several communications problems with the daily press, radio and TV, on such pressing and controversial subjects as Girard College. The department continues to solidify and enlarge its press and other media contacts.

It is a pleasure to report that the Rev. Theodore Jones has joined the department as its executive director as of January 1, 1966. The Reverend Mr. Jones has a broad background of both business and church experience. Mrs. Goodman, to whom a special tribute is due for the excellent way she handled the difficult situation, will continue as editor of the Church News, radio, and television.

The committee is being reorganized and enlarged.

GEORGES CAROUSSO, Chairman
THEODORE JONES, Executive Secretary

APPENDIX G-12

DIOCESAN CONFERENCE CENTER

In 1965 Denbigh was used on 227 days by 132 diocesan groups, including five summer, youth conferences, and by 24 "outside" groups. We served 18,030 meals to 5,088 guests, including 2,170 overnight guests. All the totals are larger than 1964, except the number of "outside" groups(which is smaller because of the larger number of diocesan groups).

The Women's Committee continued to brighten the Conference Center with the "women's touch." In May, Mrs. Wistar H. MacLaren, Radnor, succeeded Mrs. Richard Thorington, Bryn Mawr, as Chairman. A tea honoring Bp. and Mrs. DeWitt was held. The chapel and library were improved under the supervision of Mrs. Ralph Souder; a sacristy was set up near the chapel and women of ten neighboring parishes and several members of the Committee, including Mrs. James C. Hornor, Gwynedd, provided floral arrangements in season under the direction of Mrs. Fred Koepnick, Radnor; several volunteers, Miss Carolyn Earle, Chestnut Hill; Mrs. John Ullrich, Upper Darby; and Mrs. Charles Auchincloss, Devon, contributed many hours for Conference Center office work, and Mrs. William Simpson, 2nd, Paoli, many hours for improvement of house-keeping and miscellaneous chores and errands.

The main driveway, constructed over fifty years ago, was resurfaced from County Line Road to the swimming pool, an adequate exhaust hood with grease filters was installed over the kitchen range and fryer, several rooms in the house were painted by our employees, repairs were made as needed during the year under the supervision of Harry Hecht, Havertown, and a snow-plow blade to fit our larger tractor was purchased and has proved invaluable in the deep and drifted snows of January and February, 1966.

THE REV. JOSEPH H. LAIRD
Director

APPENDIX G-13

DEPARTMENT OF FINANCE

The Department of Finance met bimonthly except during the summer of 1964, and has performed the functions assigned to it by Canon.

The Property Department is a sub-department under Finance, which is charged with th surveillance of all physical property owned by or under the control of the diocese. It renders a separate report.

The Committee of Financial Safeguards, a sub-committee of the Department of Finance, meets at the call of the chairman, who renders a separate report.

The department notes with pleasure that all bills of the diocese and its expectation to the National Council for 1965 have been paid in full. The diocese has promised to share with the National Council on a dollar-to-dollar basis all contributions for the missionary budget of the diocese in 1966.

Mr. Robert F. Bole, Executive Secretary for Administration, has resigned from this post as of December 31, 1965. The Department wishes to record its appreciation of Mr. Bole's services which were marked by exceptional competence and devotion. Mr. Bole's replacement, Mr. Walter J. Robertson, brings to the work a professional experience and an interest in the welfare of the Church which promise an excellent administration in the future.

APPENDIX G-14

DEPARTMENT OF MISSIONS

Annual Report for 1965

The year 1965 was marked by several changes in personnel among Department members and clergy serving in missions. In February, the Department sadly noted the death of the Rev. David Seaboldt, who had served briefly but effectively at St. Luke's Mission, Highland Gardens. In that month, also, the Bishop appointed the Rev. Robert Hofmeister priest-in-charge of Church of the Crucifixion, Philadelphia. At the request of the congregation, this parish was admitted to aided parish status. In June, the Rev. Curtis Hanners resigned as vicar of All Saints Mission, Fallsington, to accept a call to another diocese. The Rev. Henry Williams, formerly curate at St. Paul's, Chestnut Hill, was appointed vicar of this mission. In September, the Rev. Walter Friemann resigned as vicar of St. Ambrose' Mission, Philadelphia, to take a teaching post at West Chester State College. Also at this time, the Bishop, on unanimous recommendation of the Department of Missions, Department of Finance, and Diocesan Council, designated Christ Church, Franklinville, an aided parish under the provisions of Canon VIII, Section 5. In December, the Rev. David Pettit was appointed vicar of St. Ambrose and priest-in-charge of Christ Church. The Pettit family are occupying the rectory at Christ Church.

In April, the Rev. William Powel, vicar of St. Philip's Mission, New Hope, retired. This mission is being served by the Rev. Matthew Imrie, a retired army chaplain, and the Rev. Paul Morrison, curate of St. Mark's, Frankford.

On September 1, the Rev. Wallace Houston, vicar of St. James' Church, Green Ridge, accepted a call to serve as assistant rector at Church of the Good Samaritan, Paoli. The Rev. Anthony Mattes, formerly vicar of St. John's, Compass, and Church of the Ascension, Parkesburg, was appointed to Green Ridge. The Bishop appointed the Rev. B. Shepard Crim, from the Diocese of Michigan, to serve as vicar of these two missions, effective January 1, 1966.

In October, the Department reluctantly accepted the resignations of the Rev. Nathaniel Acton and the Rev. Peter Van der Hiel as Deans of West Philadelphia and Chester Convocations, respectively. The Very Rev. Jesse F. Anderson was elected by the Executive Committee of West Philadelphia Convocation to complete Father Acton's term. Chester Convocation elected the Very Rev. Francis P. Davis Dean of Chester Convocation.

In other administrative changes, the Church of the Redeemer, Andalusia, requested the Bishop that it be admitted to aided parish status, and was accepted with the concurrence of the Deparatment. Because of the condemnation of a major part of its property by the Department of Highways, the mission in Highland Gardens was merged with St. Martin's Church, Marcus Hook. The congregation of St. Mary's Chapel at the Cathedral requested and was granted admission to Convention as a mission of the diocese. This congregation is to be known as St. Mary's Church, Roxborough.

Because of lack of physical plant, the congregation of St. Monica's Mission had been seeking another location. In June, this congregation was merged with St. Andrew's, West Philadelphia; the two vicars, the Rev. Edward P. Rementer and the Rev. Matthew W. Davis, serving jointly. At the end of the year, Father Rementer accepted a call to the Diocese of Maryland, and Father Davis was appointed vicar of the merged churches. Because of the increased size of this congregation following the merger, the Department recommended that after the first of the year, 1966, this mission function without further diocesan subsidy, except in case of emergency.

The Church of the Advent (Polish) has been condemned by the Philadelphia Housing Authority as part of a redevelopment area zoned for light industry. Negotiations are under way for a settlement on this property.

The Department also agreed to act as liaison between the Bishop and the Metropolitan Associates of Philadelphia, an interdenominational urban missionary endeavor. The Rev. Hendrik Koning is serving with the Metropolitan Associates as a non-stipendiary worker-priest; and an Episcopal layman, Robert McLean, is also serving with them.

The end of 1965 marked the retirement of Mr. Robert Bole, Financial Officer of the Diocese, who had served on the Department of Missions from his appointment in 1958. A unanimous resolution of regret and thanks was passed by the Department at its December meeting.

The Department is most grateful for the services of the Archdeacon and feels that the diocese was well advised in bringing the special talents of the office to bear in the missionary field of our five counties. We are especially grateful for the person of Archdeacon McCarty, who fills this position with grace.

Respectfully submitted,

THE REV. CANON ALFRED VAIL
Chairman

THE ANNUAL REPORT OF THE
DIOCESAN LIBRARY FOR THE YEAR 1965

During the year 1965 forty-four new books were added to the Diocesan Library. Titles included books on urban study, social and racial relations, the new theology, faith, science, and Canon law. In addition to the new books purchased, the following magazines were subscribed to and are available in the reading rack near the entry to the elevator on the first floor of the Church House:

Christian Century	Historical Magazine
Church and Race	Journal of Applied Behavioral Science
The Churchman	Journal of Pastoral Care
The Church News	Journal of Religion and Health
Church Times	The Living Church
Cross Currents	The Witness
Ecumenical Review	Anglican Theology Review
Episcopalian	The American Church News
Findings	Anglican World
Hibbert Journal	Christianity and Crisis

The Board of Control of the Diocesan Library appreciates very much the well arranged and well lighted quarters provided by the Property Committee for the Library when it was removed from Room 11 to Room 1 in the basement of the Church House. Unfortunately the number of users of the Library declined from 56 during the first five months of the year to 15 for the last seven months of the year, 66 books being in circulation in April and only 15 on December 31, 1965.

The Librarian has endeavored to advise those who normally use the facilities of the Library and parishes of the diocese of the change in location and new books are listed periodically in the Church News. It is to be hoped that the word spreads about the improved facilities of the Library, despite its change of location, and that more readers will be attracted to its services.

The Chairman appreciates very much the cooperation of the other members of the Board of Control and the able assistance provided by the Librarian, Miss Dorothy E. Kohl.

Respectfully submitted,

APPENDIX G-16

RESEARCH AND PLANNING GROUP

Annual Report for 1965

At the request of Bishop DeWitt, the Research and Planning Group undertook to gather data for a clergy salary study conducted by the Bishop's Committee to Study Clergy Salaries. The collated data secured by questionnaires sent to all the clergy of the diocese was turned over to the Salary Study Committee. The report made by this Committee culminated in the minimum salary resolution adopted by Convention in May, 1965.

On the basis of data from the Diocesan Survey, the Rev. John Schultz and other members of the Research and Planning Group prepared a film strip to present highlights of the Survey data to Diocesan Convention. Members of the Group can be called on by individual parishes to assist in the interpretation of the data and recommendations of the parish reports.

"THE SPIRIT OF '76"

is the report of the Research and Planning Committee which was presented to the 182nd annual Convention of the Diocese by the Rev. John A. Schultz. On the basis of statistics compiled in the 1963-64 Self-Study of the Diocese the presentation was prepared by the committee. Crerdits are due the late Sidney L. W. Lea, the Ven. John McCarty, the Rev. John A. Schultz, Robert C. Allen and David A. West.

Recently, I heard a new definition of a pessimist. It's an existentialist's definition of a pessimist: A man who doesn't really believe in hell but wants to go there anyway.

The more conventional definition of a pessimist is someone who realizes that things couldn't really be worse but believes they probably will be.

When your Diocesan Research and Planning Group examined the results of the survey, we were at first inclined to be pessimistic. The first figures were discouraging. So we reshuffled the cards and asked more penetrating questions. We weighed our figures very conservatively and checked them against more recent data not available when the survey started.

We did not become more pessimistic but we did become more deeply concerned.

The figures look bad — so bad that the overall picture could hardly look worse. But, one of the advantages of modern data processing is that we are now forced to face facts which we never realized before. The survey makes it impossible for us to retreat from reality.

The diocese is sick and has been sick for a long while, with different hidden diseases attacking it in different areas at different times in the past. There is no one cause but the principal disease is lethargy, a lethargy which we must cut out if we are to fulfill our basic commitment to our Lord.

But, in presenting these facts, our Research & Planning Group wanted to emphasize the hopeful side of the data. We do have the people and resources to attack this disease. We have leadership; episcopal, clerical, and lay leadership adequate to the task. Much of that leadership is right here in this Convention. Here are the facts we all must face:

What will happen in the Diocese of Pennsylvania in the next ten years from 1966 to 1976?

Will it be a decade of progress for the kingdom of God? And will you and I help to make it so?

It's a big diocese. If all the population of the United States were evenly spread throughout the country, the population in our five county area would occupy all of the New England states.

If all the Episcopalians were similarly evenly distributed throughout the country, the Episcopalians now in the Diocese of Pennsylvania would not only cover the New England states but New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland, and Virginia as well. This is a way of visualizing the fact that Episcopalians represent 3.2% of the five-county population, substantially more than our influence in the nation as a whole.

But of course, the population of the United States is unevenly distributed in the nation, the Episcopalians are unevenly distributed among the population, and we are unevenly distributed in our own diocese, especially when compared to the population distribution.

The Church is where the people used to be — in more ways than one. Whether we look at Philadelphia or the surrounding counties, our membership tends to be the heaviest in the least populated and more attractive communities.

But it's still a big diocese.

And we are unevenly divided throughout the diocese. Bucks County has ten thousand Episcopalians, Chester 12,000, Delaware 24,000, Montgomery 28,000, and Philadelphia, 40,000 Episcopalians. But the Episcopalian strength in these counties represents different percentages of the population. In Bucks County, we have 2.5% of the population, in Chester 4.9, in Delaware 3.9, in Montgomery 4.7% of the population, and in Philadelphia 2.1%.

The total figures — a year old — show 83,000 confirmed persons, 123,000 baptised souls, in 50,000 households. Of course, these totals, along with others we could give you make no sense unless we compare ourselves with the rest of the Episcopal Church nationwide and with ourselves a few years ago.

There are 89 Dioceses and Missionary Districts in the 50 United States. Pennsylvania ranks first among the dioceses in our nation in only one respect. We rank first in the number of Private Holy Communions — largely because we have a zealous priest in South Philadelphia. We cite this fact to show how even a few consecrated people can make a tremendous difference in the Church as a whole.

We rank third in the number of parishes and missions. We now have 191, compared with 200 in the Diocese of New York. We also rank third in the number of burials. We also rank third in total expenditures. The last figure, 1964, is nearly 8 million dollars. A generation ago, it was $2 million. New York tops the list with $12½ million.

One of the most encouraging facts is that we rank fourth in the number of Church School pupils. Not so encouraging is the fact that our post-confirmation drop-out is higher than ever. Having many children in our Church Schools should mean more communicants — and a more youthful Diocese.

While the size of our Church Schools has increased over many years, and the number of confirmations has been high, the number of communicants has not kept pace. The effectiveness of our Church Schools and of confirmation instruction is therefore open to serious question.

The Diocese of Pennsylvania ranks fifth in membership — below Louisiana, New York, Massachusetts, and Connecticut, and we are rapidly being outclassed by Long Island and South Florida.

We also rank fifth in the market value of our endowments. Legacies play an increasingly important part in the support of the Church and we should be grateful that so many people have made such bequests.

For many years, Pennsylvania has stood in second or third place in the number of clergy. However, retired clergy on whom we rely for continuing counsel and some pastoral ministry, largely gratuitous, affect the figures somewhat. We only rank fifth in the number of active clergy, with 243, compared with 305 in New York.

The daily offices of Morning and Evening Prayer were said nearly 10,000 times on weekdays in 1964. But this only put us in 11th place in the nation. We rank third for Morning Prayer as a Sunday service, but drop down to sixth place for the Holy Eucharist on Sundays, and seventh place for weekday Eucharists.

Since we rank third in the number of parishes, to have any lower rank in any opportunities for worship seems indefensible. This may be related to the extremely poor showing we make in attendance, which is a matter we shall discuss later.

It may surprise some to realize that we have 17 parish day schools in the diocese. Many are only a few grades, of course, but the movement for parochial schools is growing rapidly in the Episcopal Church nationally. We rank 15th in the nation in pupll enrollment.

We rank 36th in the number of men preparing for the ministry. Perhaps this is a more reasonable figure than it first might seem, since the shortage of clergy to fill vacancies for which salaries are available, is now over.

The Diocese of Pennsylvania ranks 48th among 89 dioceses in average attendance at Sunday services. We range from a high — if you can call it that — of 39th place on the first Sunday in Advent, to 61st on Trinity Sunday. Even on Easter, we don't have three-quarters of our people in church.

In many ways, we are one of the wealthiest dioceses in the Church. God has abundantly blessed us, as individuals and as a Church. Yet our people are pledging only about $46 per communicant per year, putting us in 69th place in the nation.

Even if we were average Episcopalians — and we are not even close to being that good in giving — if we were average Episcopalians then we would be in 29th place among the non-Roman Christian groups in the USA.

But Pennsylvania — this great Diocese — ranks below Presbyterians, Lutherans, Methodists, and more than 40 other denominations in pledged giving per communicant member.

Let us consider a few more of the details our survey tells us about our use of this world's goods. In 1963 we spent $6 million, in 1964 we spent $7,088,000, in our parishes and in the diocese. This represented $74 per communicant in Pennsylvania of which $46 was pledged.

The remainder came from the faithful departed — from endowment income and from activities. This compares with $96 per communicant as the nationwide figure for all expenditures, of which $56 was pledged.

The General Division of Research and Field Study suggests that we are spending too much of our energy and talent in fund-raising activities and depending too much on endowment income.

But even here, if you are quick with figures you can see that the difference between 46 and 74 is considerably less than the difference between 56 and 96. This means that we are also below the national per communicant figure for income from endowments and activities.

Let's get a little closer to home and look at our own family contributions. The average contribution per family per week in the Diocese of Pennsylvania is $1.80. At only half the biblical tithe, if we take only the median income of Delaware Valley, it should average more than $5 per family per week. That would be, you see, $1 per week for each thousand dollars of annual income. We suspect, of course, that there are a good many Episcopalians who make more than five thousand dollars a year. And we know that some people are more generous than the half-tithe level.

We said that a substantial portion of total parish income is derived from activities and endowments. Of this 15% comes from these sources, 85% is the amount which comes from pledge and plate offerings. The family contributions per week by convocations may interest you. The Norristown Convocation has an average of $2.27 per family per week. In Chester, the average is $2.25. In Germantown, $1.85. In South Philadelphia, $1.30. In North Philadelphia, 98¢. In West Philadelphia, 80¢ per family per week.

But there are some parishes where pledge and plate contributions together only add up to 29¢ per family per week. One such parish has more than a thousand communicants. At first we thought that the number of communicants might be inflated; but they get a respectable number of people out to Church services. In any case, these figures are on the conservative side because we had to derive them from the total income from pledges and plate, divided by the number of households. Had we only taken the receipts from pledged income, the results would have been much lower. But because some parishes have no Every Member Canvass and because some parishes do not use offering envelopes, we added in the plate offerings for all our figures.

Now let's talk a bit about people. We have all been concerned about the population explosion. As yet, it does not seem to be a problem for Episcopalians. It takes 42 of us each year to produce one new baptized person. You see, with more than 123,000 Episcopalians in the Diocese, we only have 3,000 baptisms.

Confirmation statistics are not much more encouraging. Even if we assume that three persons — parents, sponsors, teachers, schoolmates, and so on — are usually responsible for bringing someone to confirmation — this may be too generous an assumption — often only one person is the only motivating factor in someone's confirmation — but if we assume that it takes three persons on the average to bring one to confirmation — then 90% of our people are taking no active part whatever in bringing people to confirmation in any one year.

Of course some communicants are either too young or too old to help make converts — but really now what's your excuse?

The ratio of baptisms and confirmations to communicant strength in the diocese can be compared with the national statistics.

Our ratio for baptisms is 3.9% whereas it is 5.5% nationally. For confirmations, it is 4.1% compared with 5.8% as the national figure. It takes 26 of our communicants to produce one new communicant.

And our totals — the total number of confirmations has been declining since 1960. A trend, showing a similar decline nationally, was reversed in 1962, but it has not yet been reversed in Pennsylvania.

Fortunately, new people move in, as the Delaware Valley increases in population. And we do make a few converts from paganism, and from those lapsed from other groups.

For example, we receive an average of one former Roman Catholic in each parish in each year — and lose some other way.

There is no point to which we can refer as the "good old days," and no point at which we can say that the decline began. Because all the indicator figures which tell us something of the strengths and weaknesses of the Church at human level have moved at different speeds and sometimes in opposite directions. However, since peaks recorded in the decade 1950 through 1960, the Diocese of Pennsylvania has shown a tendency to decline in almost every category. In membership, in baptisms and confirmations, in total expenditures, in the ratio of communicants to the population, the trend has been down.

We have increased in missionary giving per communicant to a high of $10.94 per year in 1963. This figure includes missionary quota or fair share, and specials for work outside the parish.

Suppose we decide that we wish to stop this downward trend — that we wish to stay even — to maintain our present strength with respect to the community in which we are an outpost of God's kingdom. What shall we then do?

The General Division of Research and Field Study advises the Diocese of Pennsylvania that it will need a minimum of three new parishes and missions each year for the next fifteen years — just to keep even with the population growth.

These projections — for each county — are based on the assumption that we shall make an effort to keep up with the population growth, and maintain the same ratio of Episcopalians.

We have 191 congregations now. We shall need 208 congregations by 1970, 224 in 1975 and 260 in 1980. These projections assume that we shall have somewhat larger congregations than we have been used to. If we require the more personalized ministry of typical or median size congregations, then we shall need 326 congregations by 1980.

The main recommendations of the survey are that we should strive for better Christian education, better personal evangelism, better giving of ourselves as well as giving of ourselves for others.

To meet this challenges we have adequate resources. As a matter of statistical fact, if half of our families abandoned their religion (which God forbid!) and if the remaining half took their religion so seriously that they worked as hard at spreading it as 10% of our most faithful people are doing right now, if they became tithers at $1 per week for each thousand dollars of annual income and therefore gave as generously as many of our people are doing sacrificially right now — then in ten years this diocese could be stronger in every way right here than the whole Episcopal Church is today from Maine to Florida.

The potential is staggering — we have the manpower, the womanpower, the talent, and the opportunity. God has placed us in a most strategic spot in his universe and there never was a more opportune time to show forth the love of God.

Above all, we have the holy Spirit.

APPENDIX G-17

REPORT OF THE CHAIRMAN OF THE COMMISSION ON MUSIC

The Diocesan Commission on Music was reactivated in 1962 under the chairmanship of Dr. Harry Wilkinson, of the Church of St. Martin-in-the-Fields. As a body responsible to Convention, it has tried to place its corporate abilities at the service of all the churches of the diocese, and to function as a committee of research and resource in the field of Church music.

During the two years from 1963 to 1965 the commission has sponsored various activities, open to the entire diocese, by which we have attempted to help those responsible for the music in individual parishes. The most important of these was the School of Church Music, held at Philadelphia Divinity School on three successive Saturdays in February of this year. The leadership of the school was divided between members of the commission and visiting lecturers. Talks were given by Dr. Leo Sowerby, Warden of the College of Church Musicians, Washington, D. C.; by Mr. Alec Wyton, Organist and Master of the Choristers at the Cathedral of St. John the Divine, New York; and by the Rev. Canon Edward N. West, Canon Sacrist at the Cathedral of St. John the Divine. Classes in various practical aspects of church music were led by L. Eugene Roan, of St. Thomas' Church, Whitemarsh, Norman Sill, of St. Clement's Church, Philadelphia, and Newell Robinson, Adjunct Professor in Music and Voice at Philadelphia Divinity School. The school was attended by a large number of clergy and church musicians from this area.

Earlier events sponsored by the commission were a School of Church Music on October 19, 1963, addressed by Dr. George Mead, of Trinity Church, New York, and a lecture by Gerald Knight, Director of the Royal School of Church Music, Croydon, Surrey, England.

During the past two years the commission has organized two festivals for junior choirs, the first held at St. Paul's Church, Chestnut Hill, in April, 1964, and the second at the Church of The Advocate, Philadelphia, in May of this year. Both these festivals were outstanding successes from the point of view of attendance: more than six hundred young people participated in each. The level of preparation within each choir was also quite high, and we think that the festivals served an important purpose in drawing individual choirs into a diocesan event, and in fostering, at least temporarily, an increase in the quality of musical work done in individual parishes. Both festivals were led by the present chairman of the commission, Robert Smart, of Trinity Church, Swarthmore.

The commission is presently at work on a number of important projects. In the administrative field, we are compiling a definitive list of the lay musical workers in the diocese, which list, when it becomes a set of addressograph plates, will facilitate communication at all points. While no Junior Choir Festival is planned, its place will be taken by a festival for mixed adult choirs on Saturday, April 30, 1966. Under the direction of Dr. Wilkinson, this festival will emphasize the preparation of music for the service of Morning Prayer, and we hope that its value to the individual choirs participating will be at least equal to that of the Junior Choir events. We are also organizing a second School of Church Music, to be held on the Saturdays of January 22, February 19, and March 19, 1966. This will again be open to clergy and their organists and choirmasters, and will include detailed, practical work in various problems met with in church music. It will conclude with a service on the last afternoon of the three dates, incorporating work done in previous sessions.

Another matter on which the commission is at work is a list of recommended anthems of little or medium difficulty. This list is intended to help the directors of parish choirs in their choice of new music, and will be available toward the beginning of next year. Its publication will be attended by the setting up of a diocesan library of choral music, from which choirmasters can obtain copies of recommended anthems to inspect prior to purchase.

A subcommittee of the commission has also been active, under Newell Robinson, in planning the music for the regional Confirmation services. This has resulted in the choice of hymns and other music for these services which is both practical and of good quality.

We invite the criticism, suggestions, and help of all concerned clergy and lay workers in the diocese to the work of this commission. We exist for the help of the individual parish, and stand ready to respond to the best of our ability to any call placed upon us.

Respectfully submitted,
ROBERT SMART
Chairman

COMMISSION ON RECTORS' SALARIES AND PENSIONS

January 22, 1966

The Commission, during the period since the last Convention, May 5, 1965 to January 21, 1966, has held its regular meetings and discharged its responsibility for keeping the pensions of the clergy of the diocese paid up, where necessary, that is when arrearages had accumulated for six months or more, paid such. Following our long time practice, such payments were considered as loans to be repaid to the Commission treasury whenever possible. These payments in the period of this report amounted to $1244.70, paid as follows:

Rev. Bruce Williamson, Rector St. Mary's Church, 1817 Bainbridge St.	$ 731.70
Rev. William P. Hill, Vicar St. Cyril's, Coatesville	124.50
Rev. William Ischie, Jr., Rector Christ Church, Franklinville, 6th and Venango Sts.	388.50
	$1244.70

For the third year, 1963, 1964, 1965, the Commission is making no request for assessments for the Rectors' Salaries or Pensions, as funds on hand have been more than adequate to meet these pension arrearages. There were no requests from parishes, received by the Commission, for payments to meet minimum salaries. With the substantial increase in the canonical minimum, as adopted by the Convention of May, 1965, whether this condition will continue or not remains to be seen.

Mr. Robert Boles' resignation from his position in the diocese, as of January 1, 1966, carried with it his resignation as Secretary of this Commission, and the Rev. Charles H. Long, D.D. Sr. was elected to serve in this position. We are very grateful to Dr. Long for his willingness to serve in this capacity, for with his active interest in and accurate knowledge of the work of the Commission his service will be most valuable. At the same time we would express our deep appreciation of the great service Mr. Bole has rendered the Commission and the diocese as our secretary.

As of January 1, 1966 there were 128 grants of the Church Pension Fund in force in this diocese:

49 to Retired Clergy
3 to Total and Permanently Disabled Clergy
71 to Widows of Clergy
5 to Orphans

These 128 grants totalled $223,095.96.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON ORGANIZATION AND STRUCTURE OF THE DIOCESE OF PENNSYLVANIA

Mr. Chairman and Delegates:

The Committee on Organization and Structure came into being with the approval of this Convention for the purpose of studying and making recommendations to appropriate bodies or individuals concerning ways in which we might more effectively organize ourselves to carry out our mission.

At the risk of over-simplification and distortion, and this is a real risk, I would like to try to report on what the Committee has been doing by relating it in part to the hypothetical family of Mr. and Mrs. Burns, their son and daughter, and their parish. The Burns have felt the effect of our Committee's work. They are active members of St. Swithin's-in-the-Field's, a small church whose imaginary location is not far from several other Episcopal churches. This year, their daughter was confirmed in a joint confirmation service held in one of the nearby parishes and the whole family had an opportunity to see that they were part of an Episcopal community that included a number of parishes and that their daughter was being confirmed in the Episcopal Church rather than into a particular parish church. The proposal and plans for this and other joint confirmation services were recommended to the Bishop by our Committee as a result of the work of a sub-committee on Confirmations chaired by The Rev. Emmett P. Paige, Rector of St. Mark's Church in Philadelphia.

A few weeks later, the Bishop made a visitation to St. Swithin's-in-the-Fields. Since the confirmation candidates had already been presented at the joint service, the Bishop was free to meet with members of the parish and engage in some real discussion regarding the hopes, discouragements, and plans of the parish. As they talked together about the ministry of the parish to its community, Mrs. Burns, a vestrywoman, was reminded of the other parishes represented at the joint confirmation service and she began to realize that they probably had common concerns and common problems. The separation of the Bishop's visitation, whenever possible, from the confirmation service was recommended by a sub-committee on Bishop's Visitations, chaired by The Rev. Dr. James R. MacColl, Rector of St. Thomas', Whitemarsh.

Struggling and grappling with the need for some kind of a structure in the diocese through which parishes could effectively communicate with one another and with the diocese, led quite naturally to the formation of a committee to take a hard look at the role and function of convocations. First, under the chairmanship of Mr. Marshall Ream, Executive Vice-President of the Atlantic Refining Company and more recently under the chairmanship of the Very Rev. Robert W. Wainwright, Rector, Church of the Messiah, Gwynedd, and Dean of the Convocation of Norristown, this Committee has become sharply aware of the need for smaller groupings of parishes and missions for joint study planning and action. Soon this Committee's recommendations will be reported to the Committee on Organization and Structure and, hopefully, will have wide discussion throughout the diocese during this year in the expectation that a consensus will develop which would result in canonical changes at next year's convention.

The accounting warden of St. Swithin's-in-the-Field had occasion to call the office of the Executive Secretary for Administration several times last spring for information. The office had difficulty providing it for him. It was obviously under pressure and our committee decided its role was to try and determine the number and type of staff required to do its work. This was obviously a technical job and we asked the Standing Committee to pay for a study of this office by Edward N. Hay Associates who were the management consultants who made a study for the Standing Committee almost four years ago. We saw this as an extension of the original study. I might say, parenthetically, that our committee has had the advice of this firm as needed, thanks to the Bishop's willingness to make funds available to pay for brief consultations on a variety of problems. Our report on the office of Executive Secretary for Administration was made available to the Department of Finance. Meanwhile, the Treasurer and the Department of Finance, with the assistance of a consultant from the Executive Council in New York, had decided that at this time a manual accounting system would suit our needs better than a computer system and so a change-over was made the first of this year. Our report and recommendations were carefully considered in relation to the appointment of Mr. Walter J. Robertson, as Controller.

The Rector of St. Swithin's-in-the-Field was elected to Diocesan Council a year ago. He finds himself approving decisions, many of which he only vaguely understands. Reports and recommendations flow in from the various departments but he feels frustrated. He senses that there is a level of ministry that can be carried on by his own parish but there is also a ministry that involves many parishes working through the instrumentality of the diocese which is the basic unit of the Episcopal Church because this is where the Episcopos — the Bishop is. He senses that the Diocesan Council, which is the convention between conventions, ought to be doing the basic planning for the ministry or mission of the diocese but it seems shackled and bogged down. We are now forming a committee (under the chairmanship of The Rev. Dr. Tom Edwards, Rector of St. Paul's, Chestnut Hill) to develop recommendations which would make it possible for the Diocesan Council to become the kind of policy making and planning body which would give guidance, direction and inspiration to our common tasks. We hope that this Committee will be able to develop some recommendations that can be immediately implemented; others may require canonical revision and will have to await the next convention.

At the Committee's very first meeting we recognized that the mission of the diocese reduced to its simplest terms is to carry the Gospel in word and in deed to the people in our midst and through them into all avenues of life. Our task is to try to find the structure, organization and staffing that will best enable the diocesan family to carry out this mission.

We live in stirring and complex times. The simple statement of our mission does not tell us how to do the job. Our committee believes that painstaking, dedicated, creative and coordinated thinking and planning at diocesan, convocational and parish levels is required in order to seize the opportunites that are before us for the renewal of the Church. Undoubtedly, the Diocesan Council, as the representative body, reflecting the hopes and longings of the people of the diocese, should play a crucial role in the whole planning process. The Bishop's guidance and direction is of utmost importance. The departments and their staffs, special committees such as the M.R.I. Committee, Episcopal churchmen and churchwomen have much to contribute to the devising of new programs and new approaches and the improvement and updating of those in which we are already involved. Recognizing the many factors involved in the whole process of determining, with God's help, what our specific goals should be and the steps to be taken to attain them, the Committee on Organization and Structure has been studying the whole question of how to bring the necessary facts and ideas together so that decisions can be made and more coordinated diocesan planning developed. The Committee is inclined to think that a person is needed on the Bishop's staff who could serve more or less as a Director or Coordinator of program and spearhead the whole diocesan planning for mission. Some may say that this is preeminently the responsibility of the Bishop and, in the ultimate sense, we would all agree that this is so but in our modern highly structured society this is a technical and time consuming type of assistance which a well qualified person could provide to the Bishop, the Diocesan Council and others engaged in the planning process, to the Departments of Council, to the parishes and other agencies of the diocese and to the developing program of continuing education for the clergy.

Our Committee has not been unmindful of the fact that since we live in a real and material world, the ministry of the diocese requires money to support it no matter what its forms or what particular parish or mission, department, agency or institution undertakes it. A year ago this convention approved the appointment of an Executive Secretary for Financial Resources which had been recommended by the Hay report and urged upon you by our Committee. May I say parenthetically that this is the only position that has been added as a result of the Committee's recommendations to date. When we made the recommendation, we realized that there were many questions unresolved as to how the diocese should organize to secure the necessary financial resources to carry on the diverse ministries within the diocese — those directly related to the Diocesan Council as well as those not so related. Another question is, "What should we be undertaking to do to make stewardship a living concept in the lives of our diocesan membership?" Mr. Stevens has been searching, with the help of many people in the diocese, to find some of the answers. Our Committee is in addition setting up a sub-committee to study these questions in further depth, and will be reporting at a later date.

Finally, may I say that the work of our Committee may seem dull and prosaic. It does, to use one analogy, have to do with the bones rather than the flesh and blood. It is a complicated and difficult task especially because, to a very real degree, the structure and organization should develop to support the program and functions of the diocese as they are determined. From this point-of-view, it is important that we do not move too rapidly in the development of structure or make it too rigid. On the other hand, in order to get on with the clarification of our mission it is necessary to have a structure and organization that can function in a way that makes it possible for people in all parts of the diocese to plan and work together towards our common goals.

These almost contradictory demands appear at times like horns of a dilemma. More than once it has seemed that we needed to see the effect of one development before moving on to suggest others. We, therefore, crave your understanding when things seem to move slowly and assure you that the very able and hardworking members of the Committee will continue to struggle with our not inconsiderable problems of organization and structure.

Respectfully submitted,

THE REV. ARNOLD PURDIE, D.D., Chairman
Committee on Organization and Structure

APPENDIX G-20

MRI COMMITTEE REPORT

Diocesan Convention, 1966

This is by way of being an interim report, and includes such side-lights and suggestions as are not embodied in the excellent digest of the main points considered by this Committee during the past year. These are to be found on the last page of this month's (January) Church News. I can with all modesty use the word "excellent" since that digest was written during my illness by the Committee scribe — the Rev. Frank T. Griswold.

It is now two and a half years since the Anglican Congress in Toronto, and sixteen months since the adoption of the Mutual Responsibility document by our Church. In the urgent pressure of time as we feel it in modern America, this is long. In the eyes of more ancient civilizations — is it? In the eyes of God — what?

Something we all tend to forget is that no peak experience, either in history or individual lives, is permanent. Whatever moment of revelation comes, must, like the illumination of a great lightning flash, be succeeded by a period of dazzled groping before vision is restored. Actual refreshment and renewal comes only from the steady, gentle rain that follows such a flash. And further, it is only after the rain has been absorbed into the ground that growth results. We have been hoping, I am afraid, that the revealing flash of the MRI document would in itself perform a sudden miracle in our Church. And now, as normal vision is returning we realize we must wait for the rain to penetrate and condition the soil before we rush into the wet fields expecting harvest. Surely this interim, like the flash, is also God-given, and should be used for quiet preparation. Someone has put this more simply and succinctly by observing that MRI, like the Reformation or the Ecumenical Movement, is not an event, but a process.

Bishop Mosley of Delaware, in a recent letter to the people of his diocese wrote: "MRI can never have the influence it should have unless and until the laymen in our congregations understand what it means. For until they do, they cannot be expected to put themselves strongly behind it; and until they put themselves strongly behind it, MRI will remain what so many earlier concepts have proved to be, ineffective playthings of professional Churchmen."

Repeatedly, in any consideration of MRI, Bishop Stephen F. Bayne, Jr. has declared that we must try to see what God is doing in history and identitfy ourselves, our purposes and structures with what we see. But how can we see anything beyond our parish walls when so much of what we call our "Church time" is spent behind stained glass, and so much of our substance goes for the further adornment of our buildings? It is as if each parish were a self-sufficient island, not even in as much communication as the work-a-day world of business and the professions, where there's a constant interchange and flow of information. How many vestries, for example, have ever met with those of nearby churches? Or, more daringly, with their counterparts in other denominations of their community? The results might be quite stimulating and mutually beneficial, if the topics of discussion ever moved beyond the heating systems and the parish records, because for many of us it has been a long time since confirmation class or Sunday School. We've taken the trouble to increase our knowledge in many other fields since then. Is there a reason why we should not also become more knowledgeable and articulate about our beliefs concerning God and His Church? Or even, perhaps, discover the basis of our disbeliefs?

The MRI Committee, through its own discussions, has come to realize that only as each individual wrestles with the implications himself, can the dimensions of MRI begin to be evident to anyone; and a fundamental, personal effort at understanding is imperative before any so-called plan or program can be established. The concept of Mutual Responsibility and Interdependence in the Body of Christ is not something that can be instituted or imposed by a Committee, a record, or even a Bishop with any success.

At the risk of promoting just such an "ineffective plaything" as Bishop Mosley mentioned, I think it should be mentioned here that there are presently listed, in a directory of Projects in Mutual Responsibility issued by our national Executive Council, some overseas needs with high urgency — that should not have to wait until the MRI process has fully developed and matured. Some of these needs call for short-term or even one-time gifts of money that might be used as interest-primers in a parish, but they are not, by any stretch of purse or heart-strings, even a partial substitute for an understanding of MRI. What they might point up, to our shame, is our blindness to our own needs in terms other than dollars.

Our Lord's last and greatest prayer was that we might all be one. Why then, do we persist in the perverse notion that we (whoever we are) are better than they? Who makes this estimation? Should we not look hard and far beyond our separations, and work in whatever way we can toward that unity He prayed for? Certainly separations do appear at every level of our lives — and man-made ones are very evident in Christ's Church. And since, assuredly, the call of the Mutual Responsibility document does not end with the Anglican Communion, is it presumptuous to observe that in every field of human knowledge, activity or concern mankind is being drawn together — forcibly when not willingly? Science, technology, society and religion — all are experiencing a great uniting force. Could this not be what God is doing in history?

Last Sunday a Symposium was held in the Bellevue Stratford Ballroom under the joint auspices of the Archibishop's Committee on Human Relations and the Greater Philadelphia Council of Churches. The subject was "The Challenge of the Vatican Council to Christian Unity," and our Rev. Charles Long, Jr. was among the panelists. But begging his pardon, and for the benefit of those who were not there, I'd like to share what was for me the bon mot of the day, dropped quietly by one of the main speakers, Dr. Douglas Steere: That "We should work for pro-existence, not co-existence."

This week is being marked by many Churches, including ours, as the Week of Prayer for Christian Unity. We have in Greater Philadelphia an excellent instrument, our Council of Churches. How many of us know the great and tangible good this Council does, or the greater good it could accomplish with our full support? Might this not be the day and time for each of us to examine deeply and very personally, just how far our hearts do reach when we pray as we were taught: OUR Father?

Respectfully submitted,

MARY (MRS. SITER) OWEN, Chairman

CONVOCATION REPORTS

CONVOCATION OF WEST PHILADELPHIA

At the meeting of the Convocation of West Philadelphia, Thursday, October 21, 1965, The Rev. Jesse F. Anderson was elected to fill the unexpired term of the Very Rev. Nathaniel Acton, who resigned at this meeting of the convocation.

It is with pleasure that we announce that at present there are no missions in the convocation — one aided parish and this parish is self supporting.

The Dean called a meeting of the convocation on Tuesday, December 7, 1965, at St. Thomas Church to meet with the Bishop. He has been in touch from time to time with the Rev. Matthew W. Davis, who is the priest at the merged St. Andrew's and St. Monica's Parish.

At the meeting of the convocation Thursday, April 21, 1966, the Very Rev. Jesse F. Anderson was elected to a full term as dean.

Very sincerely yours,
JESSE F. ANDERSON, S.T.D.
Dean of the W. Phila. Convocation

CONVOCATION OF NORTH PHILADELPHIA

The spring meeting of the Convocation of North Philadelphia was held on Tuesday, April 6, 1965, at Saint Nathaniel's Church. After the usual transaction of business, it was announced that two new priests were instituted as rectors within our convocation. The Reverend Raymond Taylor was installed as rector of the Church of Grace and the Incarnation and the Reverend Edward Hendricks as rector of Saint Clement's Church.

Many problems concerning the parishes in the area of the North Philadelphia Convocation were discussed and the usual election of officers and committees was held.

The fall meeting was held at the Church of the Advocate, Tuesday, October 12, 1965. At this meeting, the Reverend Walter F. Martin was introduced as the new vicar of Saint Bartholomew's Church, and the Reverend Ronald Joseph as the newly instituted rector of the Church of Saint James, the Less.

The usual business of the convocation was conducted and a committee appointed to nominate the candidates who would serve as officers to be elected at the coming Spring Convocation.

Since this meeting, the Reverend David L. Pettit has been appointed vicar of Saint Ambrose Mission and priest in charge of Christ Church, Franklinville.

Last year, a corporate Communion Service for men and boys was celebrated on Saturday March the 27th (Mid-Lent), at the Church of the Annunciation. This was the first venture of its kind and certainly was blessed by a good attendance and very fine fellowship. The men and boys, after the service, received a very fine breakfast at one of the grilles of Temple University; at which time General Milton Baker of Valley Forge Military Academy gave a very inspiring address. Because many of the men have requested that this be repeated next year, we intend to follow the same plan.

Each month a number of the clergymen of our convocation meet to discuss our mutual problems. We hope by these gatherings to receive information, help, and inspiration from one another. It has been made very clear to us that North Philadelphia is one of the most difficult areas of the Church's work.

My first year as dean certainly has been a series of challenging experiences with many revealing opportunities. We ask your prayers on our behalf.

Respectfully submitted,
ROBERT S. HARRIS

CONVOCATION OF NORRISTOWN

1965 Dean's Report

The spring meeting of the convocation was held at St. Paul's Church in Oaks. It was a program to prepare the delegates for the issues to be decided at the Diocesan Convention. The Archdeacon and Bishop DeWitt spoke on the various topics to be raised at the Convention.

The fall meeting was held at St. John's Church in Norristown. The Bishop spoke about the long range planning going on in the diocese. The continuing process of re-examination and evaluation on all levels. He answered many questions pertaining to the program and problems of the diocese.

We welcome as a new vicar in the Convocation, the Reverend Eastwood Atwater. He is the new Vicar of St. Dunstan's, Blue Bell. The building progress is encouraging at Blue Bell. By next summer both the church and parish house will be complete and in full use. Mrs. Poorman, as the new President of the Women of the Convocation, has been most helpful. I appreciate the cooperation of all of the officers and members who have helped make the dean's job easier.

REPORT OF THE WOMEN OF THE CONVOCATION OF NORRISTOWN

The Women of the Convocation of Norristown held four meetings during 1965, two in the daytime and two in the evening. The spring daytime meeting was held on May 6, at the Church of St. Jude and the Nativity, Lafayette Hill, with an attendance of 105, representing 21 parishes. The program was given by Mrs. Richard Claytor, who showed slides of her recent trip through Africa. The evening group met on May 21 at the Church of the Good Shepherd, Hilltown. Thirty-one were present and the program consisted of a skit presented by members of the Women of St. Peter's, Glenside.

The Women of Emmanuel Church, Quakertown, were hostesses for the fall daytime meeting on Oct. 7. The attendance was 93, representing 19 parishes. Bishop A. Ervine Swift celebrated Holy Communion and addressed the group. The fall evening meeting was held at Calvary Church, Conshohocken, on Oct. 19, with an attendance of thirty. The Rev. Richard Fenn spoke on his experiences as a missionary in India.

Twenty-seven of the thirty parishes contributed to the convocation fund in 1965. The sum of $1000 was given to St. Dunstan's, Bluebell, to assist in building their church. $1200 has been budgeted for a new mission project to be designated later.

REPORT OF THE CONVOCATION OF CHESTER

Because of the newness of the present dean who took office in late October after a twelve year incumbency by the Rev. Peter C. Van der Hiel, Jr., this report must of necessity be brief. However, there are several matters that should be permanently noted because of their achievement through the outstanding leadership of the Rev. Mr. Van der Hiel. The mission properties of the convocation most certainly never have been in better condition than they are at the present time. An active and capable Property Committee, under the Chairmanship of Mr. William C. Pierson, regularly made annual complete inspections of every property and brought in recommendations for all work that was needed. This was immediately taken care of so that deterioration from neglect was avoided and fire hazards were eliminated. How much this will be responsible for saving in dollars and cents it is impossible to estimate, but the amount would be considerable.

The women of the convocation completed another two year project amounting to $5000., thus enabling St. Mary's Church, Chester, to effect vast improvements in their physical structure and so more readily minister to their constituents. With this helping hand from outside, the membership received added incentive to do many things on their own which were within their financial ability. A new rectory was also bought during the year with enough room to hold small meetings, thus effecting a saving on fuel during the colder months.

In the early fall the Rev. Anthony J. Mattes moved from Ascension, Parkesburg and St. John's, Compass to St. James Church, Green Ridge, thus staying within the convocation. He has been succeeded by the Rev. B. Shepard Crim so that the work continues without any interruption.

On December 1, 1965, the Rev. Hendrik B. Koning resigned as vicar of St. Andrew's Mission, Belmont Hills. Father Koning is serving as a worker-priest with the Metropolitan Associates of Philadelphia, while continuing his full-time occupation as an engineer with the Philadelphia Electric Company. As yet, no successor has been named to St. Andrew's.

St. Christopher's Church, Oxford, continues to be strengthened by the support of its very loyal people and will be in a position shortly after the beginning of the new calendar year to pay off its building fund indebtedness. This is a real achievement for a mission which has not yet quite reached its fourth birthday. Though on the farthest edge of the convocation, St. Christopher's is making its presence known and has every promise of future growth.

Our newest work, St. Francis-in-the-Fields, Sugartown, is in the midst of potentially tremendous growth from the community angle. The fine, attractive church which has been erected there will inevitably draw newcomers to it and its future seems assured.

The various committees of the convocation continue to function well but we are particularly indebted to Mr. John S. Eiseman, the Secretary-Treasurer, for his skill and tireless contributions to the work of the convocation. Special words of appreciation are expressed, too, for the leadership of Mrs. Victor G. Perrin, President of the Women of the Convocation of Chester. Her understanding and insight, as well as her never-failing tact, has kept the work of the convocation at a high level.

FRANCIS P. DAVIS

CONVOCATION OF GERMANTOWN

Dean's Report

We have added to our list of missions and aided parishes, two new churches; St. Mary's Chapel at the Cathedral and Redeemer, Andalusia. We have no financial responsibility at the Cathedral, our only responsibility is one of oversight and assistance. Redeemer, Andalusia, made a request for financial assistance in order that the rector might receive the minimum salary prescribed by the new canon.

House of Prayer has made extensive repairs to the parish house so that it might be more serviceable for a church school. The most of the repairs are being borne by the mission. We applaud this courageous action on their part and are grateful to the members for their willingness to bear this additional burden.

All Saints, Fallsington, has a new vicar; the Rev. Henry N. Williams, who began his work in August. We are pleased with the results that have been evidenced in the last six months. Increased attendance, increased enrollment in the church school, increased income are all good signs of growth. We are confident that All Saints' under its present leadership will soon be a self supporting parish.

The work at Holy Nativity is presenting the vicar, parish and convocation, real concern. The opportunities for growth are limited and with the continued changes which are taking place in the community, it is unlikely that this work may continue.

The work at St. Philip's, New Hope, is at present under study by the Archdeacon and the Dean. Some definite new plans must be made to assure the permanence of this work.

May I again express my appreciation to the members of the Executive Committee of the Convocation and to the chairmen of the several committees who have been most cooperative. We are also grateful to Mrs. Allen and the Women of the Convocation for their inspiration and assistance.

We plan to enlarge our activities next year, giving much attention to the Diocesan Survey and especially the suggestion for our convocation. We also plan Area meetings of the clergy to discuss the Survey.

We are confident that the convocation system as it now stands or revised geographically has much to offer the diocese as a means of promoting the Mission program of the Church. We welcome any opportunity of service to the diocese.

CONVOCATION OF SOUTH PHILADELPHIA

1965 REPORT

Three areas of concern have been in discussion in South Philadelphia Convocation.

1st. We are delighted with Father Hofmeister and the work he is doing at the Church of the Crucifixion. He appears to be a real pastor and priest. At least two churches outside South Philadelphia have assisted materially to help make repairs and give numerous pieces of furniture and equipment to help modernize the buildings. Men and women of the church have given many hours of labor to paint, repair and fix-up the property. Attendance is far better under Father Hofmeister.

2nd. Of grave concern is the extension of the Expressway westward. This may mean relocating or closing at least two churches.

3rd. Again because of coming modern highways, Gloria Dei (Old Swedes) Church is in serious difficulty. The Rector, the Rev. John Craig Roak, D.D., has been in contact with every official, City, State, and Federal, to try and have present plans changed and the highway relocated. More of this later.

An excellent report was given at the meeting of the South Philadelphia Convocation held at Prince of Peace Church on Tuesday, April 27, 1965. This was a report of Committee on Church School Training given by its chairman, The Rev. James C. Blackburn. The committee was continued.

No report was made on change of Bylaws since the diocese has a study in process.

During the meeting of the Women's Aid to South Philadelphia Convocation, held the same date, the following officers took their respective places.

President — Mrs. Kenneth O. Grannum — member of St. Philip's Church
Vice President — Mrs. Rose Golden — Prince of Peace Church
Treasurer — Miss Mary J. Doyle — Gloria Dei Church
Recording Secretary — Mrs. M. B. Marston — St. Mark's Church
Corresponding Secretary — Mrs. John Deritt — Holy Communion Chapel
The October 26th meeting was held at the Church of St. John the Evangelist.

In the absence of Bishop De Witt, who found it necessary to be at the Chester Convocation, the Rev. J. R. MacColl, III was the speaker. He asked for thinking concerning topics relative to our convocation. A meeting was set up for November 29th at the Church of the Holy Trinity, at which time Bishop De Witt would do his best to answer questions and talk with all persons interested in the Church's work.

A Thanksgiving Eve service was arranged to be held at St. Elisabeth's Mission.

REPORT OF THE TRUSTEES OF THE CHRISTMAS FUND

At the meeting of the Trustees of The Christmas Fund, held January 11, 1965, grants for its calendar year were reviewed on the basis of the annual questionnaires filed by each beneficiary. In view of rising costs, and with ability on the part of the Fund to pay, grants were increased to fifteen beneficiaries, the highest amount paid to any individual being $1100.

At the start of the year, there were eighteen beneficiaries with grants totaling $16,300, annually. One addition has been made, and three have been cancelled because of the death of the recipients.

The Trustees welcome the names of any who might be eligible (as defined by Canon VII, Sec. VII (3) for the purpose of the Fund. Upon receipt, a questionnaire will be mailed to the candidate and prompt action will follow upon its return.

The financial transactions of the Trustees are recorded with report of the Treasurer of the Diocese.

APPENDIX J

92nd ANNUAL REPORT OF THE PRESIDENT OF THE EPISCOPAL CHURCHWOMEN

Mrs. Robert C. Lea, Jr.

This is my last report. It comes at the end of three years of privilege and responsibility and inner turmoil. What a time to be president of the Women; a time for Christian candor among Bishops, new theology, new ministries, world relevance, involvement and thrust. You need a whole new vocabulary to be with the Church today. There is also division of opinion over whether God is dead, or whether we must be looking for the living God active in His world today. It keeps you on your toes to be part of a Church grappling with questions of belief in modern terms and relating to a rapidly changing world.

In our diocese, even Bishops, to whom we turn for stability and guidance, have been subject to rapid change — three times in my first year to my sorrow and confusion. Now we have another Bishop appropriately named "Swift." It has been a comfort and joy to come to know many of the clergy. This may be a terrible diocese according to the recent Self-Study but the clergy is great. It is good to have shared, if only for three years, the trials and glories of your life entirely committed to the Church. And how does one express thanks to a Bishop who is fearless and fair and a foul weather friend.

My fellow diocesan officers have been wonderfully resourceful and flexible in trying out new ways to do our job. I wish I could speak of the contribution of each one. Their reports are in the Journal, and the recorded devotion behind them is surely dear to the Lord. We all appreciate being welcomed on the diocesan team and allowed to participate while learning. Thanks for your rash trust in allowing us to speak for the laity to you, and to speak in parishes for the diocese.

I heard a sermon a couple of Sundays ago which gave me an idea for simplifying this report. I would stand up and say "We have been about our Father's businsss," then sit down. I entertained this idea as far as the parking lot, then shared it with a friend who remarked ruthlessly, "Have you?" This sent me back for a searching look at the business of the last three years.

Each year has had its special emphasis. It is reassuring that our problems do change. We never seem to finish a work — just leave it in God's hands and move on. In 1963 it was Christians in Urban Society and Quest for Reunion of Churches; the awareness of urban dehumanization, rootlessness and despair largely unheeded by suburban parishes, their abilities and resources unchallenged. This was called "The Fragmented Society." On divided Christendom, Angus Dun at Hood urged us to be ecumenical people, to take within our own life the strains of our division and carry them graciously and generously, to be healers of the brokenness of the One Body. Now we've moved on to brokenness among people; political factors and racial groups which tear apart the Body of Christ.

Last year it was the Changing Role of Women in Church and Society; women expected to fulfill their Christian mission by baking cakes and hearing reports on meetings they weren't interested enough to attend — the important work of the Church being left to men.

Now worry about the status of women is swallowed up in larger concern over the lost sense of mission among lay men and women; that mission is the calling of all Christians, clergy and lay.

Into this picture of unmet needs and anachronisms came the statement from Canada, articulating the imperative to the Churches to renew a right spirit in themselves. The MRI Document does not pin us down to anything, but won't let us go, like a giant conscience demanding self examination and amendment.

MRI has been hard to define. After parish talks on the subject, invariably someone asks, "What is MRI?" They may not know what it is, but it has been working like yeast among ECW. As C. P. Snow has said about Americans: "If they do nothing else, they do react."

We have been reacting to MRI in many ways. (1) Encouraged parish self-examination by holding a two-day Evaluation Conference of the Diocesan ECW Board in November to discuss our effectiveness in promoting the Church program. (2) Have advocated the study of the nature of mission at five identical meetings scattered around the diocese, on Mission: the Christian's Calling, to stimulate re-thinking of the function of the Church and whether women's activities are in keeping with it. (3) Another aspect of Mutual Responsibility has been the Prayer and Worship Department's Lenten Study of Intercessory Prayer and promotion of daily use of Far and Near, the prayer manual for dioceses of the Anglican Communion. We consider Bible study and prayer an important counter-balance to the world pre-occupation of the Church. (4) to implement MRI in the community we have held "Christian Community Projects" meetings at Church House to inform parish representatives of opportunities for service. The first was a program of diocesan services. A panel of clergy and lay women told of Voluntary Summer Service programs, Church Work Among the Blind, casework at Episcopal Community Services and church work in colleges. The second program covered Ecumenical Community Services: United Church Women's Youth Study; WICS, (volunteers screening girls for the job corps); the Neighborhood Gardens Association; and Laubach Literacy. Literacy Workshops in January and February conducted by Mrs. Frank H. Maguire to train volunteers to teach functional illiterates in the Philadelphia area to read.

Increased attention in the Church to community welfare is also reflected in our recent Lea Hill Scholarship grants. The Fund was established in 1954 to "train women for full time work in the Church" which is now interpreted to mean social work as well as Christian education. Two grants were made this year for degrees in social work; the first to Miss Carolyn Loper for an M.A. at Columbia, the second to Mrs. Charles B. Weil, Jr. for a Ph.D. at the University of Pennsylvania. (5) Also under the impetus of MRI, the Women of the Diocese have undertaken a one-year project to provide scholarships for seminarians at St. Paul's College near Nairobi in East Africa. A young priest just returned from six years in Africa spoke to us on this project last week. He explained the problem facing the Church there in the sudden development of a literate people with the advent of government schools — with an almost illiterate, poorly paid priesthood composed of elderly products of Mission Schools, speaking no English, or young catechists not smart enough to get beyond elementary school and find a better paying job. Theological education in East Africa has been rated highest priority by the Overseas Department. Three parishes have each offered to support a student for the three years of Seminary: Trinity, Swarthmore; the Church of the Redeemer, Bryn Mawr; and Christ Church and St. Michael's. St. Paul's and St. Martin's, Chestnut Hill, have combined to underwrite one year. Other contributions amount to an additional year. We hope for more to complete the fourth scholarship.

At the Diocesan Board Evaluation Conference we moved from serious consideration of eliminating ourselves to a determination to stay in business and do better. The Women of the Dioceses of Maryland and West Texas have dissolved their ECW at the diocesan level. The Texas resolution read, "to free women to meet the needs of a world hungry for love and a Church whose soul cries out to be saved." This sounds good! We are afraid that along with freeing them we might lose them. This is not necessarily the answer for us. We are twice as big, and centralized, and full of diversity. A unifying board is both practicable and needed. No ECW would mean loss of a channel for communication of the general Church program.

Parishes continue to show appreciation of this service by supporting a $10,000 office maintenance budget and keeping our new staff Mrs. Joseph N. Leo and Mrs. James W. Ervine hopping with calls for information and material.

No ECW would mean loss of leadership development. Pennsylvania has two Vice Presidents on the Provincial Board, Mrs. Charles B. Allen and Mrs. Karl Beyer; and the Provincial representative to the General Division of Women's Work, Mrs. Siter Owen. There would be loss of autonomy and loss of a sense of oneness and diocesan responsibility among the parishes.

Evaluation of our present operation indicated a need for more parish leadership training and work groups; parish visits on an informal basis to help women conduct and plan meetings, and gearing the program to women's lives.

We are now in an awkward period of transition from thinly attended city meetings to a proliferation of suburban programs. This makes for many more meetings and miles of traveling. We may have to make better use of convocational leadership to spread the work. I suppose some day there may be no occasion for a separate women's organization but I think this will happen from within.

Closer coordination of women's activities with the Departments of Diocesan Council is de facto. A gradual shift of program is already taking place from women's meetings in the women's building to meetings in areas under combined clergy and lay leadership for both men and women.

Our annual Leadership Training Day in June, two Denbigh films and discussion evenings for laity, the Adult Leadership Training Days this winter are all joint enterprises of the Diocesan Department of Christian Education and ECW members. The Voluntary Summer Service Committee and the Christian Social Relations Departments both have active, vocal ECW representation in their planning and program.

These have been years of upheaval and activism in the Church, long overdue, but in some ways overdone. I hear from the unhappy ones. As I have talked in parishes this year, I have felt like a dark cloud. After lunching with congenial groups whose pews are, I suppose, too comfortable, I have felt churlish and unloving to denounce their fellowship, their bazaars, their traditions, and urge them to accept re-interpretation of the Christian life, implying they are less than Christian if their theology is not up to date and they are not exercising a political ministry.

The laity is asked to be the Church in the world, but the clergy is also being the Church in the world. The Church seems to lack faith in itself and its message and its strength. There seems to be a tendency to substitute social action for spiritual discipline and of world relevance for God reverence. The Church is properly anxious over its lack of impact on the world, but the inner life of the Church is still as important as the outreach.

It should be possible to reach out without uprooting those who have found God through old half truths, because we have worked out a new half truth for our day. We are, after all, rooted in eternity which stretches backward as well as forward. Our Father's business requires a bigness of heart which can take alienated lives and views within itself, not rejecting the one for the other, and which does not deny the reconciling love of God.

DEPARTMENT OF PRAYER AND WORSHIP

Mrs. Richard W. Thorington

"We may begin our prayer life with a short and passionate cry for some specific need, but we do not end there. Our inner thirst leads us to deeper springs of the Spirit."

The eagerness with which the Episcopal Churchwomen of the Diocese of Pennsylvania respond to the following programs presented by the Prayer and Worship Department reveals their longing, their thirst, for the "deeper springs of the Spirit."

The Sister Ruth Angela, S.H.N., of the Sisters of the Holy Nativity, conducted the Annual Retreat held at the Conference Center on September 28th and 29th. The subject of her addresses was "The Holy Angels."

The Prayer and Worship Conference held on October 22nd, also at the Conference Center, was for parishes and individuals forming groups interested in Bible study and prayer groups. Mrs. Frederick B. Hufnagel, Jr. spoke on "Bible Study Techniques" and Mrs. Robert C. Watson spoke on "Prayer Groups" and led the meeting in prayer. Following luncheon, the meeting convened in the Chapel for prayer and meditation. Mrs. Robert C. Lea, Jr. conducted this session and spoke on "The Christian's Call," "The Christian's Response" and "The Christian's Vocation."

St. Mark's Church, Philadelphia, was the inspiring setting for the Quiet Morning, conducted by the Rt. Rev. A. Ervine Swift. The Bishop's meditations were based upon three of the great classics of devotional literature and one modern biography: "Imitation of Christ," edited by Thomas A. Kempis; "Introduction to the Devout Life" by Francois de Sales, "Letters from Baron Friedrich von Hugel to a Niece," edited by Gwendolen Greene and "Our Expanding Church" by James Addison.

The Prayer and Worship Department contributed "The Biblical Basis of Mission: "The Christian's Calling" to the panel of the Department of Christian Education, presented at five Keynote meetings in October. The study book of the Department of Prayer and Worship for 1965 and 1966 is "Intercessory Prayer" by Edward Bauman. The quotes at the opening and closing of this report are taken from this book. Intercessory Prayer and our "Mutual Responsibility and Interdependence in the Body of Christ" are closely allied. As we focus upon M.R.I. it seems not only appropriate but essential that we try to learn to pray more effectively for others. May we "forget ourselves in order to lift others up into the Light, eager only to work with God in His redemptive purposes."

DEPARTMENT OF DIOCESAN AFFAIRS

Mrs. Benjamin E. Eaton

In October the Department combined with the Department of Christian Social Relations for a panel discussion on "Christian Community Projects." The panel consisted of the Rev. Edward L. Lee, Episcopal Chaplain of Temple University; Mrs. Mary Brion, Director of Church Work Among the Blind; Mrs. Howard Kellogg, a volunteer at the Episcopal Community Services; and the Rev. Jesse F. Anderson, Director of Voluntary Service Projects in the Diocese.

At the November meeting the Rev. Howard E. Clark, D.D., Director of Development at the Philadelphia Divinity School was our speaker. His subject was "New Perspectives in the Field of Theological Education."

THE EPISCOPAL FOUNDERS COMMITTEE OF THE COOPERATIVE SHOP last year gave $1,000 to the Philadelphia Divinity School Scholarship Fund and $100 for the Library Fund at the Divinity School. The amount came from profit derived from donations which were given in the name of the Founders, and also from the Annual Card Party and Tea. Contributions of clothing, household goods, china, glass, silver, lamps and objets d'art are especially needed to continue this assistance to the Divinity School. Episcopal Churchwomen volunteer their services one day a week to help in the Shop.

THE BISHOP'S COMMITTEE FOR THE PHILADELPHIA DIVINITY SCHOOL spoke in ten parishes to interest more women in the School. An electric coffee maker was provided for student use in the refectory.

THE EPISCOPAL COMMUNITY SERVICES COMMITTEE presented with illustrated lectures their program to groups in 15 parishes; assisted 6 parishes, approximately 100 persons, with tours of the agency headquarters and the surrounding historical neighborhood; contributed the sum of $1,000.00 (undesignated) to the work of the agency from funds sent into the Committee by interested parish groups, strengthened the Associate Membership Program of the agency with corrected files, additional mailings and follow-up notices; served two luncheons at Old St. Paul's for clergy new to the diocese; financed plantings outside the building and extra furnishings inside; and lent assistance with a reception given for Mrs. Henry J. Gideon who retired as Director of Church Work Among the Blind; and finally was instrumental in sponsoring three parish benefits, the income from which was turned over to Episcopal Community Services.

DEPARTMENT OF MISSIONS

Mrs. John P. Lutz

The first meeting in the fall featured the Rev. William E. Blewett, director of the Corporation for College Work in the Diocese of Pennsylvania. Dr. Blewett gave a very interesting talk about his experiences as the leader of a college group working in Tanzania, Diocese of Tanganyika, Africa, during the previous summer.

At the November meeting, Mrs. William Alban, from the Department of Christian Education of Executive Council, spoke about the activities of the Community Education Center, which she helped to found, in Guayaquil, Ecuador. At this meeting the parish representatives voted to give $275.00 of the Overseas legacy money to the Partnership Project for Theological Education scholarships in the Province of East Africa.

Mrs. Randall E. Copeland, Chairman of the Home Division, reports her group disbursed $150 each to the American Indians and Domestic Missions; and $100.00 to each of the following: American Church Institute, Migrant Ministry, Bishop Gesner for St. Elizabeth's Mission Home, Wakpala, S. D., Provincial Project.

DEPARTMENT OF CHRISTIAN EDUCATION

Mrs. Henry L. Hood

Those of us who attended the Hood Conference last summer were so inspired by the interpretation by the Rev. Canon Douglas Webster and other lecturers on the theme, "The New Shape of The Christian Mission" that it was decided to use this in the form of a panel at our Fall Keynote meetings. The panel did such a fine job they have been invited to repeat the program for a parish's evening Lenten service.

We tried a new approach in the scheduling of our Keynote meetings this year. Five identical programs were presented on "Mission: the Christian's Calling" at the Church House, Denbigh, and in several outlying areas. Some were in the daytime and some in the evening. In this way we hoped to offer a time and place convenient to everyone.

On October 24th we joined the Department of Laymen in presenting the film, "The Detached Americans," at a dinner meeting at Denbigh. The response was so encouraging we are planning a similar evening in March to show and discuss the film, "The Parable."

Your Chairman has been speaking in various parishes in the diocese and she and your President plan to continue meeting with the women out in the areas in which they live.

DEPARTMENT OF CHRISTIAN SOCIAL RELATIONS

Mrs. Horace J. Wheaton

The theme of the meetings of the Department of Christian Social Relations for this year is "Christian Community Projects." The first meeting, held in October with the Department of Diocesan Affairs, consisted of a panel of four speakers. The Rev. Edward L. Lee, Episcopal Chaplain at Temple University, spoke of his work among college students. Mrs. Mary Brion, Director of Church Work among the Blind, told of the services and need for volunteers at Episcopal Community Services. Mrs. Howard Kellogg talked of the very rewarding work she is doing as a volunteer worker with a family in the area of the Church of the Advocate. The Rev. Jesse F. Anderson, Director of Voluntary Service Projects in the Diocese, gave a resume of the work done in the day camps and Bible schools during the summer.

The November meeting was combined with Ecumenical Relations. Mrs. Helen Heydrick of the Community Services Department of the Council of Churches showed slides of the work of the Council. Miss Helen Mueller, Assistant Director of Women in Community Service, better known as "Wics," told of their work in screening girls for the Job Residential Corps and some of the problems they encountered. Mrs. John Forrester, Director of the Neighborhood Garden Association of Philadelphia, showed slides of the transformation of blighted areas by the planting of window boxes and beautifying vacant lots.

Mrs. Frank H. Maguire spoke of the Laubach Literacy Method of teaching adults and made plans for workshops to be set up for ECW.

ELIZABETH PRICE MARTIN LEAGUE #1 at Philadelphia General Hospital received the Hospital's award as the volunteer group of the year. New items donated to the Hospital included four high chairs, two play pens and pads, one baby tender and one bouncer, layettes for babies (104) and 262 toys for children. In addition Christmas gifts were given to 1,327 patients. The total number of hours worked by league volunteers during 1965 was 3,055½.

ELIZABETH PRICE MARTIN LEAGUE #2 at Episcopal Hospital through its fourteen committees and four fund raising events (The Annual May Fete, the Card Party and Tea, the Emergency Aid Bazaar Booth, and the Corner Store and Snack Bar operated in the Tower Building of the Hospital) has raised almost half its goal of $75,000 toward the building fund of the new wing of the Hospital, due to be in operation in December of 1966. The league entertained both patients and residents of Harrison House at Parties throughout the year and assisted the chaplain on his calls. Nurses and hospital representatives were sent to workshops and conferences by the league.

ELIZABETH PRICE MARTIN LEAGUE #3 at Riverview receives support from many Episcopal Churches and assists the Chaplain, the Rev. F. Powers, and Deaconess Searle. It sponsors birthday parties and gives gifts to residents on their birthdays and at Christmas. The Easter dress project provides each woman with a dress, hat and handbag. The league volunteers also assist at the annual picnic, music festival and Christmas Workshop and hold meetings with a group of twenty-five ladies known as the "What Not Group." The Riverview Episcopal Burial Fund was started last year. Three residents have been buried from the fund to date. It is a great comfort to the living Episcopal residents to know that they may have a Christian burial even if they are indigent.

ELIZABETH PRICE MARTIN LEAGUE #4 at Fair Acres has made many donations of time and talents to the residents of Fair Acres. The league worked in the Children's Cottage during the summer and sponsored a boat trip on the Delaware River. Curtains were made for bedrooms, and a donation for recreational purposes was made. A recreational program at the Men's Building is very popular as are the monthly birthday parties, Christmas Bazaar and Party. The craft work among the women guests is growing rapidly. Through the garden program many plants have been added to the building and the guests are given bulbs, violets and other plants to grow in their rooms. Father Batten is the chaplain, assisted at the chapel services by Fr. McKendrick, Fr. Adams and Fr. Knewstub. This brief service with meditations is a great source of comfort to the guests.

DEPARTMENT OF PROMOTION

Mrs. Charles W. G. Van Horn

The activities of the Department of Promotion since June 1965 have included the following:

Coordination of material from all departments of the ECW for the CHURCH NEWS each month.

Evaluation of questionnaires returned from parish groups.

A luncheon and discussion meeting with the Archdeacon and ECW Convocation Chairmen.

The vice-president attends meetings of the Department of Missions and serves on a sub-committee of this department.

The vice-president is a delegate to the Synod of the Third Province.

Participation in ECW evaluation session at Denbigh.

Visitation with women's groups in various parishes.

Under Christian Ministries, a Lea Hill Scholarship was awarded to a student in the graduate school at the University of Pennsylvania School for Social Work, and the Department of Promotion served as sponsor for a Summer Volunteer Service Projects Conference for college students.

DEPARTMENT OF ECUMENICAL RELATIONS

Mrs. Edward J. Parnum

The Department of Ecumenical Relations seeks to keep Episcopal Churchwomen informed on general ecumenical matters, and to stimulate ways whereby the purpose and spirit of the ecumenical movement may be made a vital and living force in the local churches and communities.

A joint meeting with the Department of Christian Social Relations was held November 3rd on Christian Community Projects. The Department of Ecumenical Relations was responsible for two phases of the program: the Greater Philadelphia Council of Churches and the Adult Literacy Project. The ministry of the Greater Philadelphia Council of Churches was portrayed by a new film, "The Questioner." The Adult Literacy Project, sponsored by the United Church Women to promote literacy among functionally illiterate persons, was explained by Mrs. Frank H. Maguire. So much interest was aroused that three workshops have been held and three more have been scheduled for the future. Twenty Workshop Certificates have been granted to trained Laubach tutors as a result of the workshops.

There has been an increasing recognition of the ecumenical movement by Episcopal Churchwomen and this year the convocations are scheduling ecumenical meetings in order to gain a fuller understanding of that unity for which our Lord prayed.

UNITED THANK OFFERING

Mrs. Rayburn C. Smith, Jr.

For the first diocesan meeting of the year in September, we were fortunate to have as our speaker the Rt. Rev. A. Ervine Swift and to be able to welcome him and Mrs. Swift to Philadelphia. He gave us a most inspiring glimpse into the work the U. T.O. has been able to do overseas — particularly in Puerto Rico.

On November 17 at Christ Church, Phila., we had as our speaker for the Fall Ingathering the Rt. Rev. Stephen S. Bayne, Director of the Overseas Department of the Executive Council. It was indeed a privilege to have the architect of the Mutual Responsibility and Interdependence Document with us in this beautiful and historic church. As Bishop DeWitt was unable to attend, Bishop Swift and Dr. Harding received the Offering totalling over $35,500.

DEPARTMENT OF SUPPLY

Mrs. Dane E. Wells

In July of 1965 the next to the last supply assignment came to us. Next July we shall receive our last list of requests on this assignment basis, and by December of 1967, supply work on the assignment system will come to an end. After that, it is expected, this part of supply work will be in the general budget of the national Church, and ready-made items will replace the hand-sewn and knit articles which the sewing circles have been making.

The sewing and knitting for this year's assignment is now being done. By May of this year it will be ready to be sent to St. Michael's Center, in Ponce, Puerto Rico, and to the Mission of the Good Shepherd in Fort Defiance, Arizona.

Our assignment asked for $500 to be sent to St. Barnabas' Hospital, Tokyo, Japan and $100 for Interchurch Medical Assistance.

There are about fifty of our parishes with active sewing groups. Already many of them are finding other outlets for their handiwork: local hospitals, Children's Homes and Veteran's Hospitals. Most of our parishes hold bazaars, where the sewing and knitting groups earn money that the mission fields share with the other church affiliated agencies who benefit thereby. We are beginning to coordinate information for the sewers and knitters who want to continue their work after 1967, to help them find where their work will be most needed.

Church World Service seems to be one of the likeliest organizations for the intelligent planning and disbursing of sewn and knit, as well as used, clothing. CWS wants articles for disaster areas and wartorn regions such as Kashmir and Viet Nam. We are broadcasting their call for cloth and thread and needles for the refugees in Viet Nam, and our women are taking these packets to the Church World Service Depots throughout the diocese.

THE MISSION SHOP

Mrs. C. Fenno Hoffman

The Mission Shop offers attractive articles for sale from Chinese refugees, Japan, the Indian Americans, and India. It is located on the first floor of the Women's Building. In addition members of the committee take articles from the shop to sell at area meetings. It is hoped that by calling attention to the handiwork of those who need our help, we will contribute to an understanding of the Church's far-reaching interests.

THE CONFERENCE OF THE PROVINCE OF WASHINGTON

Mrs. John L. Fox

"What is Christian mission?" "How does it differ from other missions?" "Can we point to the ultimate in Christian ethics?" "Have we Christians something unique?"

These are some of the questions posed at the opening service of the Hood Conference by the Rev. Wadi'Z. Haddad, the 1965 chaplain. No pat answers were given, but during the course of the week those who attended the Conference, including 42 from the Diocese of Pennsylvania, were urged to draw their own conclusions.

The leader, the Rev. Canon Douglas Webster, spoke daily on "The New Shape of the Christian Mission." He spoke of God's unchanging mission, and that the Christian must see how God is working in the world today and learn to respond to God and to the world; to take responsibility. This is where mission begins.

AFFILIATED ORGANIZATIONS

The Altar Guild

Mrs. Daniel S. Wood

The Altar Guild, at the request of the Rev. Frederick M. Brooks, gave a private Communion set for use at the Hospital of the University of Pennsylvania.

In memory of Mildred Dallett, who was chairman of our linen committee for many years, $100.00 was given to the Order of St. Benedict, Three Rivers, Michigan.

Annual contributions also included $10.00 each for Christmas altar flowers at the Philadelphia General Hospital, the House of Correction and Sleighton Farms School, and altar bread for the institutional chaplains of the Episcopal Community Services.

Church Periodical Club

Mrs. Paul W. Lingle

The Church Periodical Club has again broken the record of the previous year. Contributions continue to mount as the requests come in. As the need is made known, the people respond generously. The total received in 1965 from all sources amounted to: $6,502.90.

Highlights of the year were $1,877.50 received for the Interpreter's Bible project and $1,273.17 received for magazine subscriptions.

Disbursements for projects were:

St. George's School, Jerusalem	$100.00
St. Francis H. S., Philippines	100.00
Seminary in the Caribbean	125.00
Cuttington College	100.00
Bishop William's Seminary	100.00
Sunday Pix, New Mexico	125.00
Anglican World (for Japanese Clergy)	385.00
Newsweek and Theological Review (for clergy in Liberia)	297.15

Over 800 magazine subscriptions were sent to all parts of the world. Many women remailed their magazines as well. 248 new Bibles were given out. These Bibles were obtained from Trading Stamps. 14 sets of the Interpreter's Bible were given to seminarians. 2 sets (23 books per set) of the Christian Classics, 4 sets of the Interpreter's Bible Dictionary and 26 single books (costing $5.00 each) were given to seminarians.

The Girls' Friendly Society

Julia M. Porter

The Spring Diocesan Council Meeting was held on the evening of May 26, 1965 in the Packard Memorial Room. The speaker was Miss Beth Irwin of the GFS in Ireland, who reported on the GFS World Council in Japan. The results of the triennial election were announced, and the new officers were installed in the Bishop's Chapel: President, Miss Julia M. Porter; Vice-President-at-Large, Mrs. Edward Scheer; Secretary, Miss Ruth V. Hammersley; Treasurer, Miss Dorothy Heginbothom. District Vice-Presidents and Members-at-Large were also elected.

During the summer Junior, Senior and Intermediate members enjoyed the programs at the GFS Holiday House in Cape May, N. J.

The Provincial Leadership Training Weekend for leaders and teenage girls with leadership ability was held at Denbigh September 24-26. The subject was "Our responsibility in the GFS — What it can be and some skills to develop it."

September 29 each year is the GFS Day of Prayer Around the World. Girls around the world pray for their fellow GFS members in over thirty-one countries. A free will offering is taken on this day to help support a special project chosen every three years by the GFS World Council. The current project is to establish the GFS in Korea.

The Junior Forum for leaders of Junior and Intermediate members was held at Christ Church Neighborhood House on October 14. Leaders are trained particularly in handicrafts at this forum.

The Junior and Intermediate Members' Annual Banquet was held on Nov. 14.

The Sponsor Branch at Calvary Church, Conshohocken celebrated its Seventieth Anniversary on Dec. 4.

The Ingathering of the Mighty Mite was the first week in December. Each girl has a Mighty Mite box into which she deposits one cent and says a prayer. The prayer is as important as the coin. This is the unified giving plan for member support of the GFS — USA.

On December 8 the Ingathering was held at the Seamen's Church Institute sponsored by the Senior Members' Club and the Seamen's Church Institute Auxiliary. Filled ditty bags, many knitted articles for the seamen, and gifts for the permanent residents were on display.

In December, and throughout the year, under the direction of Mrs. Donald Sirianni, gifts and tray favors are made by the branches for the House of Rest, Stephen Smith Home, Episcopal Hospital, Riverview, All Saints' Hospital, and the Maple Manor Nursing Home.

Order of the Daughters of the King

Elizabeth A. Jenks

The members in six active chapters of the diocese continue to follow their vows of prayer and service. Prayers are offered daily by many for fellow parishioners who are ill, shut-in or distressed, and for other individuals and groups.

Study is an important part of the chapter programs. One chapter had a series of colored slides on "Old Testament Altars," prepared by the National Council of the Order to depict the history of altars.

In the fall the National Chaplain of the Order, the Rev. Edward L. Merrow, led meditations at a Quiet Evening.

The voluntary Self-Denial Offering given by the members of the Order pays the salary of the missionary, Miss Elizabeth Daniel, in Brazil.

One of the members has been appointed a delegate to attend the Anglican Fellowship of Prayer, and delegates attend the Provincial Synod meeting and report at the Fall Assembly dinner, which this year was held in November.

Communicants last reported	6,345

	6,555
Transferred to Parishes	64
Present number	6,491

Note: Canon XIV, Section III, Paragraph 2, requires that the Minister in charge of Parishes and Missions shall transfer to the Diocesan Register, at least once a year, and before the annual meeting of the Diocesan Convention, the names of communicants whose whereabouts or continued existence are unknown. And he shall note the fact on his Communicant List.

Once transferred, all requests made to the parish for transfer should be forwarded to the Custodian, and not transferred by the parish and the Custodian notified.

J. Wesley Twelves
Custodian

APPENDIX L

REPORT OF THE REGISTRAR

The canonical duties of the Registrar have been duly performed throughout the year. Requests for certificates of Holy Baptism, Marriages and Burials from the registers of closed parishes have been complied with, insofar as the records were available.

The attention of all officers of diocesan organizations and institutions, and vestries of parishes is called to the importance of preserving official books of record and other documentary papers of said organizations. In case of dissolution, the said books and papers should be turned over to the Registrar as soon as possible thereafter, for permanent storage in the Church House Vault.

At present we have the records of over thirty closed parishes, many of which are of historic value. The Church Historical Society at Texas feels that some of these should be microfilmed. Some of the records of Bishop White and his valuable papers are deposited in the vault. The crowded condition of the vault indicates that some thought must be given about larger safe facilities.

J. Wesley Twelves
Registrar

APPENDIX T

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE CHURCH OF THE ADVOCATE TO THE 182nd CONVENTION OF THE DIOCESE OF PENNSYLVANIA

JANUARY 1966

The major portion of this report is a reprint of the Study of the Church of the Advocate by the "General Division of Research and Field Study of the Executive Council of the Protestant Episcopal Church."

This convention will certainly be interested in the "Discussions and Recommendations — Church of the Advocate Philadelphia" following: "Discussions & Recommendations"

DISCUSSION AND RECOMMENDATIONS CHURCH OF THE ADVOCATE

Philadelphia, Philadelphia County, Pennsylvania

There is no need for a Diocesan Survey to point out to the congregation of the Church of the Advocate how atypical are the circumstances of the church and its work at 18th and Diamond. It may be of service, however, to point out that the buildings house at least two widely varying groups. The first is the Sunday members, including many devout persons who find great strength for their lives from the traditional pattern of church-going. The other end of the spectrum is made up of individuals for whom contact with the Church of the Advocate is a fleeting occurrence, usually in connection with a pressing emergency. By far the majority of people reached by the ministries of the Church of the Advocate are not regular in church attendance, in financial support, or in knowledge of the Teachings of the Church. It is important that the members of the "traditional" parish be served as faithfully as are the people reached under less customary circumstances. It is equally important that those people associated with the traditional ministry of the Church of the Advocate take an ever increasing share of the responsibility for the non-traditional tasks of the parish.

There is little doubt that the opportunities facing the Church as a whole, as illustrated by the Church of the Advocate, are tremendous. A great deal of outside assistance is essential and just. It is strongly urged that the diocese and the National Church, as well as countless interested individuals, continue to support by money, by personnel, by prayers, and by time and talent, the efforts which are being made by the Church of the Advocate, in a very real sense, on behalf of the more "comfortable" parishes.

It is equally important that the week in, week out members of the Church of the Advocate contribute of their substance to the very utmost, in spite of the knowledge which they have that the work of the Church of the Advocate would founder if it depended only upon what the parishioners could contribute in material possessions.

It is to be hoped that the membership of the Church of the Advocate will increase in members, but it may be that the destiny of the work is not to be successful in statistical or similar terms. The Church of the Advocate must, however, be successful in ministering to itself as well as to those outside of its fellowship. The paradox of the Church is very clearly set forth at 18th and Diamond: the strengthening of the present members in order to be of greater service to those who are now outside the membership and perhaps always will be.

The General Division of Research and Field Study strongly supports the call for additional staff members, skilled in a variety of ways, in order that the responsibilities of the greater Church may be fulfilled in the opportunities for service represented in the neighborhood of the Church of the Advocate. No concrete suggestions are advanced here, flexibility being one of the requisites for work at the Church of the Advocate. It is essential that greatly increased financial and physical resources be at the disposal of the staff in order that they may be truly flexible in their work.

The Church Program

The Church of the Advocate serves a great many people more or less in the traditional way of Episcopal churches throughout the country. That portion of the program has been very carefully and completely recorded in the Church Self-Study Form which accompanies these pages. In addition, the Church of the Advocate serves another group of people, some of whom are Episcopalians but most of whom are not, in many and varied ways. A welcome addition to the pages of the Church Self-Study Form is a statement by the rector which gives some insight into the methods by which this second group of people is ministered to. The attention of the congregation and of the diocese is directed to both reports, the conventional and the addenda. Reference to the annual report of 1964 will also be helpful to those people who are concerned with the work of the Church of the Advocate.

The Church Self-Study Form shows that about one-third of the 559 baptized members of the congregation are in church or classes on the usual Sunday. There are daily morning and evening services with an attendance of 40 in the morning and 20 in the evening. The midweek celebration of the Holy Communion is on Wednesday evenings and has an average attendance of about 15 persons, although the attendance is sometimes as high as 80. The church school has an enrollment of 65 youngsters on Saturday mornings and 56 on Sunday mornings. There are numerous teacher's meetings, though very few teachers. An allied part of the Christian Education Program is a Day Camp during the summer and a year-round Day Care Nursery. There is also adult studying on an inter-parochial basis.

The organizations of the congregation are of two types, those which are primarily aimed at serving Episcopalians, and those whose membership rolls are open to all interested people. It would seem that one problem which the traditional organizations face is allied to that which the Church as a whole faces in urban situations, that is of finding a relevance between the work which the organization does and the circumstances in which the church finds itself. The members of the various groups, the Ladies' Guild, the Advocate Churchwomen, the Men's Fellowship, and the Vestry, are all to be commended for the support which they lend the congregation and for their concerned approach to the work of the Church.

In the light of the diocesan average pledge income per year, about $46.00, the pledge income of the Church of the Advocate is commendable, averaging $32.00 per communicant per year. The economic situation of the members is not an affluent one, and yet the pledges are as high as those of many congregations having more comfortable circumstances.

The congregation is aware of the responsibility which the laity have for evangelism, and are planning to try for a second time to put lay evangelism on an organized basis. Intensive training for those who would be callers on behalf of the Church is urged, under the leadership of the clergy. Some congregations have found that periodic meeting of visitors assist them to do their work, as they draw strength from each other's experiences. One principle which might be considered is that evangelism cannot be organized effectively until there is an impelling drive within the individuals to be the bearers of Good News to others.

At present, the most important way in which the Church of the Advocate is spreading that Good News, is through the working and worshipping presence of members and clergy, supplemented by the effective use of the facilities for community purposes. It should be remembered that growth in numbers is not the only measure of the effectiveness of the work of the Church, even while an increase in numbers is certainly indicative of considerable strength and achievement.

As Things Are

Our new gymnasium came into use in May. The conversion of our chapel for this new use was made possible by a foundation grant of $25,000.00.

The Advocate has a special youth worker whose job is to work with boys who have not fitted too well in regular youth programs. This work is being made possible through a special grant of $5,000.00 from a local foundation.

New steps are being built in our parish house. This is being done at a cost of $8,000.00, funds coming from foundations, parishioners and individuals.

The City of Philadelphia through its Human Renewal program provides seven persons to work in our youth program.

We are in the process of trying to get "Project Get Set" as a service to our community. The chief question is: Will our parish house meet the standards of the Board of Education?

At present we are without a curate. Fr. Black is now in Mexico.

We have had to discontinue our Daily Morning and Evening Prayer since we no longer have a curate. We used to have an attendance of from 2 to 3 to 30 or more.

Mentioned elsewhere — Day Care Center is being closed due to insufficient funds to continue its operation.

We can use all clothing left over from rummage sales. Families from great distances away come in each week to see if we are able to keep them with this basic need.

New approach produced 17 volunteers at one service: Large blackboard was affixed to west wall of the church with listings of jobs where workers needed: after the service 17 persons signed up for 6 areas of need.

On Saturday, January 29th, a small group of persons will meet towards the end of forming a corporation to sponsor low-cost housing in our community under a federally sponsored program.

A statement from the Rector of the Advocate

From time to time some persons ask: "When do you feel that the Advocate will be self-supporting" or "Do you feel that within a few years the diocese will be able to reduce its annual appropriation for your work"?

If we were to abandon our evening programs in which there are over 600 young people enrolled, if we were to close our doors to countless families who come in each week in need of food, in need of someone to speak to a constable or a landlord, in need of shoes for children and oil or coal for the furnace; if we were to discourage groups from wanting to hold community meetings and other activities in our parish house — in other words, if we wanted to forget the community and just think of "the members," it is quite possible that I could predict a date when such a group could become independent. (That is if it did not have this massive cathedral-like structure to heat and maintain).

Of course one realizes that it would normally take "self-supported" individuals and families to sustain a "self-supporting" church. North Philadelphia will not achieve such a status until the institutions, policies, structures and persons who have been a willing (or unwilling) party in creating and perpetuating the "ghetto community" do as much to undo this damage as was done to create it.

As rector of this parish, I could not stay here if we were not doing as much as we are doing and the greatest agony with which I am faced is that we cannot do a great deal more than we are doing.

Our present financial predicament is precarious. It is tantamount to trying to live in the year 1966 with a 1959 income. What about the people, can't they give more? The report from the "General Division of Research and Field Study" observes that "The pledge income of the Church of the Advocate is commendable, averaging $32.00 per communicant per year. (The Diocesan average is $46.00) Being a neighborhood of sub-standard apartment buildings, the neighborhood is extremely unstable, where families are constantly on the go, trying to find a place where the apartment is only cool instead of cold — a place where the window pane is only broken, but not where the frame is rotted.

As the Federal, State and Municipal governments have recognized the need and are trying to restore to communities such as ours much of the things of which we are deprived, certainly the church can do no less and ought to be in the forefront — leading the way.

The closing of our Day Care Center is tragic at a time when persons are being trained and encouraged to work. How can they work if places are not available to care for their children?

Our Day Camp has grown to a point where we must have 27 counselors to handle our enrollment of 230 children. For 1966 we appropriated the same amount of money as 1965 and 1964. Can it be done?

We ought to have a trained lay worker — calling families together to discuss Ways and Means of attacking the structures which will not so much as move to make it possible for "the status quo" to achieve a higher social and economic status.

The only meaning that the Church or any person or institution can have in the Advocate community is power; power to change things, and if we are not prepared to help towards constructive, hopeful change, it is then just as well that we face up to the truth about ourselves — we are missing the point.

I have heard a couple of persons at our Episcopal Community Services referring to us as "The Outpost." At first I did not know whether I liked that or not, but I have grown to like it. If we were not here it would make a big difference to hundreds of families (most of them not members of our parish) but the difference could be greater. The difference is not at all unrelated to our own greatness.

EPISCOPAL HOSPITAL

Report to the 182nd Diocesan Convention

of

THE DIOCESE OF PENNSYLVANIA

January 21, 1966

When we reported to the 1963 Diocesan Convention, Episcopal Hospital had completed 112 years of service; was launching a second century of care with a building replacement plan and was faced with a $52,000 expenditure to repair our Chapel, considered by many, "the heart of the hospital."

Progress in three years has included construction on a six-story wing, the Potter-Morris Building, and complete refurbishing of the Chapel. At present the walls of the new building are going up and it is hoped that this structure, named for Bishop Alonzo Potter, who founded the Hospital, and young Dr. Casper Morris, who inspired the Bishop, will be dedicated this fall.

Funds for the $4,500,000 six-story Potter-Morris Building, which was given "highest priority" by the Hospital Survey Committee, have been obtained through a fund raising campaign which secured more than $1,000,000 in cash and pledges from the hospital family, foundations, corporations, large and small business firms and individual donors. The Hospital also received a grant of $1,500,000 under the Hill-Burton Act. The balance will be made up by a loan amortized over 25 years.

Further contributions would be especially appreciated in view of the fact that every donation will lessen the amount of the $2 million loan required and the rate of 7¼% interest is money that we would prefer to devote to patient care.

The new building will provide facilities for a 12-bed intensive care unit, long needed by the hospital. It will also provide two-bed semi-private rooms and four-bed wards to replace those now located in obsolete wings. The whole top floor will be devoted to maternity with three labor rooms, two delivery rooms and one postpartum room. Thirty-two bassinets will be separated into special areas for well babies, premature infants and those who must be isolated. This new unit will meet requirements of the Philadelphia Department of Public Health.

The Department of Pathology, performing more than 200,000 tests a year; the Emergency and Receiving Ward, handling more than 25,00 emergency calls; the electroencephalographic, electrocardiographic, pulmonary function and basal metabolism units, all now located in 19th century quarters, will have proper working facilities in the new building.

Repairs of the century-old Chapel were completed in October of 1963 at a cost of $52,000. This money was appropriated by the Board of Managers from hospital funds with the hope that contributions from the diocese would eventually replace part or all of the amount. The late Bishop J. Gillespie Armstrong had plans for obtaining this money from the diocese. While repairs were being made, a temporary Chapel was set up in the basement of the hospital and regular services were continued. The Chaplain conducts Holy Communion in the Chapel every Sunday when patients are escorted or transported in wheel chairs and beds to the service by members of the Chapel Corps representing several parishes. Holy Communion is administered at the bedside as well as in the Chapel.

Special services are conducted at Thanksgiving, during Holy Week and on Ascension Day. Weekly services are held for older patients at Harrison House and there is a celebration of the Holy Communion for student nurses every Wednesday. Baptisms are performed and there is provision for Holy Unction. In addition to pastoral visitation to patients, the Chaplain conducts a study program for students and counsels both students and employees. He also conducts vocational interviews with postulants of the diocese, and Episcopal Hospital provides physical examinations for all postulants without charge.

During the year ending June 30, 1965 Episcopal Hospital spent $25,425 to support the Chapel and the Chaplaincy Service. This included salaries of the Chaplain, secretary and organist.

Contributions through the Thanksgiving Offering from the Diocese have ranged from $16,000 to $18,000 with $16,398 in 1962; $18,184 in 1963 and $17,660 in 1964. The offering is applied toward the total expense of approximately $25,000 a year leaving about $7,000 for the Hospital to pay.

Episcopal's Chaplain, the Rev. Benjamin Axleroad, is available to speak about the Hospital and its Chaplaincy program to interested church and professional groups. He may be reached at Episcopal Hospital, Front Street and Lehigh Avenue, or by calling GArfield 6-8000, extension 355.
